Everyone's Pulling for Her

This little tot, one of the many in Edmonton who are dependent on others for a Merry Christmas, looks forward like any other child to Santa Claus' coming. What will be in her stocking? That is up to any one of a dozen city welfare organizations that today are busy morning and night, trying to arrange for at least some kind of a gift for every needy city child. The Edmonton welfare department has ordered a Christmas bonus for every family on city relief: one dollar for each adult and 50 cents for every child. Have you done your utmost to help? —Photo by Bland.

Editor, Writer to Appear At Child Welfare Probe

Action Comes After Charges By Magazine

Jack Kent Cooke, Toronto, president and publisher of the magazine New Liberty, and Harold Dingman, Ottawa editor for the magazine have been ordered to appear before the Royal Commission investigating the whole question of child welfare in Alberta at the Court House here at 10 a.m. Friday.

This action was prompted by the publication of an article entitled "Babies For Export. Alberta's Tragic Traffic in Babies," which was written by Harold Dingman. The article was published in the Dec. 27 edition of New Liberty magazine.

S. Bruce Smith, KC, counsel for the provincial government, made application regarding contempt of the commission, because, he said, the story tended to prejudice and interfere with the commission.

SMITH ALSO made application requesting the sheriff of the Edmonton judicial district be directed to inform Mr. Dingman, and Mr. Cooke, to appear before the commission on Friday. Mr. Smith also requested that Mrs. P. P. Griffith, IODE secretary, appear before the commission Tuesday morning. It is alleged Mrs. Griffith authorized the publication of the story.

The commission consisting of Chief Justice W. R. Howson, chairman; Chief Judge J. W. MacDonald of the Southern Alberta district court, and Judge E. B. Feir of the Southern Alberta district court, retired to consider what action to take. After such consideration, Chief Justice Howson addressed the counsellors.

Chief Justice Howson said the commission had considered Mr. Smith's representations and instructed J. C. Mahaffy, KC, commission counsel, to instruct the sheriff of the judicial district of Edmonton, to telegraph Mr. Dingman and Mr. Cooke. The purpose of the telegram would be to ascertain if both men are willing to appear at the court house Friday at 10 a.m. The men are to appear to show cause why they should not be committed by the commission for contempt. "We have instructed Mr. Mahaffy as to the contents of the telegram," said Chief Justice Howson.

"If these men answer that they are so prepared then we will allow the matter to stand until Dec. 19," stated the Chief Justice. Then he stated, "If they say they are not prepared we will take such further steps as we see fit in this matter."

George H. Steer, KC, counsel for the IODE, read a portion of a letter from Dr. Charlotte Whitton to Mrs. P. P. Griffith informing her that New Liberty requested permission be sent to Mr. Dingman to write the article. Mrs. Griffith informed the commission the IODE provided

Only 75 Miles Yet To Be Constructed

$4 Million Grimshaw-Hay River Highway Expected Ready for Use Next Summer

Modern Highway Breaks Isolation of Northland

Above are scenes along the nearly-completed highway that will provide year-round access to the Yellowknife mining area by way of Grimshaw and Lower Hay River Post. Only 75 miles of the 385-mile road remain to be completed next summer. Picture at the top is of beautiful Alexandra Falls, 34 miles south of Hay River Post. The second photo from the top shows a section of the completed road five miles from Lower Hay River. A mishap during construction is depicted next, with a dump truck tip-ended when the tail gate failed to open. Equipment for building the road is shown being freighted along the Hay River before work started on the road. About 600 men have been working on the highway.

A new era will be ushered in for Canada's fabulous northland next summer, with completion of the Grimshaw-Lower Hay River all-year, all-weather highway.

ONLY 75 MILES of road remain to be completed next summer. Started in July, 1946, under a provincial-Dominion agreement, the road stretches for 385 miles along the bank of Hay River, through a wilderness of forest and boulders between Grimshaw in the Peace River country and Lower Hay River Post on the south shore of Great Slave Lake.

Total estimated cost of the highway is approximately $4,000,000, with the federal government bearing the full cost of construction from Hay River Post to the Alberta boundry, a distance of 80.9 miles.

This section of the road will cost about $1,280,000. Cost of the remainder of the highway through Alberta is being shared between the provincial and Dominion governments.

Provincial government and federal working crews were within 75 miles of each other when freeze-up brought a halt to operations

Committee Cuts U.S. Aid $88,000,000

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—(AP) — The House of Representatives appropriations committee today made an $88,000,000 cut in the emergency foreign aid program and slashed from $490,000,000 to $230,000,000 a fund the United States Army asked for government and relief in occupied areas.

It sent to the house floor a bill providing $509,000,000 aid for France, Italy and Austria compared with the $597,000,000 the administration asked. Nothing was recommended for China.

Only yesterday, Congress sent to President Truman legislation approving $597,000,000 program for the three European countries and China.

Truman had called into special session Nov. 17 and asked $597,000,000 to be

Debate Other Bills

Govt. Control Powers Extended to March 31

By D'Arcy O'Donnell

OTTAWA, Dec. 16.—(CP)—The Commons last night adopted a resolution extending the government's price and domestic rent control powers from Dec. 31 to March 31 and then turned to another resolution that would give similar extension to the Agricultural Products Act under which the government requisitions foods needed to fill long-term contracts with the United Kingdom.

PASSAGE OF the resolution pertaining to the transitional powers act came after a three-day debate, and Prime Minister Mackenzie King said that last a similar debate develop on the second resolution it was planned today to bring in the emergency foreign exchange conservation bill for second reading.

The bill will provide statutory authority for the import restrictions imposed by order-in-council Nov. 17 and effective since that time. Mr. King said the house would not have to pass the bill through its stages but the government wanted it advanced to at least second reading.

Finance Minister Abbott said he Noted Canadian, W. J. Tupper Dies

WINNIPEG, Dec. 16.—(CP)—William Johnston Tupper, 85, a former lieutenant governor of Manitoba and bearer of one of the most distinguished names in Canadian history died here today after an illness of several months.

A native of Halifax and graduate of Upper Canada College, Toronto, and Harvard Law School, he was a son of the late Sir Charles Tupper, one of the fathers of confederation and prime minister of Canada in 1896.

Appointed lieutenant governor of Manitoba Dec. 1, 1934, Mr. Tupper held that office for almost six years. It was a period notable not only in his life but in that of the province as well for few had more prominently identified themselves with public affairs than he.

Chambers Hanged, Claims Innocence

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Dec. 26.—(CP)—Sydney George Chambers, 35, was hanged shortly after midnight this morning for the murder of little Marion Rusnak who disappeared from her home Dec. 23 last year and whose body never was found.

The former canning plant foreman, twice convicted and finally disallowed appeal against his second conviction, went to the gallows inside the Lincoln County jail here at midnight. The trap was sprung at 12.12 a.m., and he was pronounced dead at 12.26 a.m.

The few witnesses, who did not leave the execution chamber until an hour after the hanging, said that Chambers still protested his innocence as the noose was adjusted.

Norman Jaques Not Commenting

OTTAWA, Dec. 16.—(CP)—Norman Jaques, Social Credit member of parliament for Wetaskiwin, informed that his writings have been banned temporarily from the Canadian Social Crediter, a party newspaper published weekly in Edmonton, said yesterday: "It is exactly what the Communists say."

He declined to comment further. Gordon Taylor, managing editor of the newspaper, official organ of the National Social Credit Association of Canada, said Saturday the ban on Mr. Jacques' writings will remain in effect as long as Mr. Jacques persists in what Mr. Taylor called an "anti-isms" attitude. He referred particularly to what he said was Mr. Jacques' "anti-Semitic attitude."

Calgary Lawyer Dies Suddenly

CALGARY, Dec. 16.— (CP) — John J. O'Connor, 60, prominent Calgary lawyer, died suddenly yesterday in the Land Titles office. He called at the office about 3.30 p.m., spoke to a clerk at the counter, and then collapsed. He had been suffering from a heart condition.

In addition to his extensive law practice Mr. O'Connor had numerous business connections. He was on the directorate of several independent oil companies and played an active part in the development of Turner Valley. He was for several years vice-president of Yukon Southern Air Transport Ltd., now merged in Canadian Pacific Airlines. He owned several large farms in the Calgary area.

Born in Orillia, Ont., Jan. 26, 1887, Mr. O'Connor studied at the universities of Manitoba and Alberta and in 1913 articled at law with C. J. Ford, now a judge of the Alberta supreme court.

Separate Peace Ruled Out

Western Powers Move To Unify Germany

By R. H. SHACKFORD

LONDON, Dec. 16.—(—Secretary of State Geo. Marshall, confronted with a world split by the failure of the Big Four conference, ruled out as "impossible" today proposals to make a separate peace with Western Germany.

MARSHALL AND his advisors were reported to be agreed generally that the west's only course now was to complete the unification of Western Germany. That would be done by extending the economic arrangements for the Anglo-American zone to the French zone and then proceeding to some form of provisional political unification.

SOON AFTER SOVIET Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov hurried off to Moscow without saying goodbye to anyone, Marshall discussed the significance of the collapse of the foreign ministers with his delegation.

Tonight Marshall will discuss the

Large Force Said Involved

Report Jews, Arabs Fight Pitched Battle

JERUSALEM, Dec. 16. — (AP)—Haganа headquarters at Tel Aviv reported today that a Hagana force had surrounded a uniformed and "heavily armed" band of Arabs at Yarkona, five miles north of Petah Tiqva, and that a pitched battle was taking place.

A spokesman for the Jewish defence forces said the Arab band, which he described as "a large force," was believed to be a scouting party from the Arab village of Tulkarm.

An official announcement said three Arabs and one Jew wounded in previous incidents died today, bringing the Holy Land death toll to 250 since the decision to partition Palestine on Nov. 29. The death toll for the entire Middle East stood at 316.

IN THE YARKONA fight, which opened the 17th consecutive day of Arab-Jewish blood-letting, Hagana said the "larger part" of the Arab band had been "destroyed."

In Cairo, the premiers and foreign ministers of the seven Arab states prepared to wind up their "war conference" tonight and said they would issue a statement at the close of the meeting regarding discus-

City Fliers Are Asked to Fight in Holy War

Wartime RCAF pilots in Edmonton have been sounded out by persons sympathetic to the Arab cause to fight as volunteers against Jews in the Holy Land, it was learned on good authority by The Edmonton Bulletin Tuesday.

At least two ex-wartime pilots said Tuesday unofficial bids had been made by persons claiming affiliation with an "Arab Friendship" organization.

Experienced fighter and bomber pilots would be paid $1,000 per month on enlistment in forces being recruited by the Moslem world, to oppose by armed force the recent decision of the United Nations to partition Palestine into separate Arab and Jewish states.

The Lebanese consulate at Ottawa was mentioned as being the authority behind the Canadian recruiting campaign.

The Edmonton veterans approached were told that the campaign would take clearer form within a short time.

As far as could be learned, no Edmonton airmen had accepted the bids to fight for Islam as yet.

Church Is Not Responsible For Actions of "Red Dean"

LONDON, Dec. 16. — (Reuters) — The Archbishop of Canterbury, Most Rev. Geoffrey Fisher, today issued a statement dissociating himself and the Church of England with the "actions and utterances" of the 73-year-old "Red" Dean of Canterbury, Dr. Hewlett Johnson.

DR. FISHER declared that it was necessary because of "widespread misunderstandings and misconceptions both on the continent, and in the United States, liable to affect the relations of the Church of England with foreign churches and countries," to make clear the position of Dr. Johnson.

Newsprint Price Up $6 Per Ton

VANCOUVER, Dec. 16.—(CP)—The Powell River Co. Ltd. today announced a $6 increase in the price of white newsprint, effective Jan. 1, bringing it to $96 a ton, based on the New York market index.

A company spokesman said the increase was ordered to meet high-cost production costs.

Alberta newspapers have been advised by Powell River Sales Co. Ltd., of the increase in price effective Jan. 1. This will make the price $114.73 per ton on the track at Edmonton, the highest delivered cost on the continent of North America.

TORONTO, Dec. 16.—(CP)—The Great Lakes Paper Co. Ltd., of Fort William Tuesday announced an increase of $6 a ton in the price of newsprint effective Jan. 1.

Abitibi Sales Co. Ltd., Toronto, and International Paper Sales Co. Inc., Montreal, had already made similar announcements.

The increase is on the present price of about $86 in Canada and $90 in New York.

Great Lakes also announced that the price of unbleached sulphite will be increased by $10 per ton.

Hon. W. Earl Rowe, president, announcing the increases, said the company's manufacturing and delivery costs had accelerated rapidly.

Cut U.S. Aid

Italy and Austria get through the winter and resist Communism.

THE BILL SENT to the president only gave congressional approval for the idea of aid and set $597,000,000 as the maximum which could be provided. Separate legislation was required to provide the funds. That is the bill the committee has now recommended.

While the committee recommended no funds for China, it said the $88,000,000 reduction would leave a reserve for use in China in the event an aid program is begun there.

Here is what Truman asked for the European countries and what the committee recommended:

	Asked	Recommended
France	$328,500,000	$262,000,000
Italy	$211,000,000	$189,000,000
Austria	$ 58,000,000	$ 58,000,000

Technically, the committee did not stipulate how the $509,000,000 of emergency aid should be distributed, but based its cuts on the figures above.

THE COMMITTEE said $66,000,000 of the amount asked for France was for items not directly related to emergency relief, and so was $22,000,000 of the Italian request. These items included such things as $20,000,000 for servicing of the French foreign debt.

The foreign-aid money is in a general appropriation bill which also provides funds for various other government uses.

The total in the measure is $772,726,000. The amount is 31 per cent below what the administration asked.

The largest reduction was in the fund for army government and relief in occupied areas, amounting to 53 per cent.

The committee cut $137,000,000 from the army request for the $237,000,000 for food and relief in the British-occupied zone of Germany and trimmed $123,000,000 from food and relief estimates for United States occupied areas in Germany, Japan and Korea.

North Highway

for the winter a few weeks ago. The federal working crews were within 20 miles of Alberta-North West Territories boundary with the provincial organization 45 miles south of the boundary on the Alberta side.

WHEN THE HIGHWAY is open to traffic officially next August the Yellowknife and adjacent mining areas will be served for the first time in history with a first class gravelled highway over which heavy freight and supplies may be shipped the year around from Edmonton and other north supply centres.

Up until now all heavy freight, with the exception of that shipped over a hazardous winter trail, had to await the opening of water navigation from Fort Smith to the north over the famed summer water system route.

When war turned the Canadian north into a highly strategic area, American engineers flayed a winter tractor trail between Grimshaw and Lower Hay River, over which they freighted considerable equipment and material for the Canol pipe line project.

With the end of the war and great developments in the gold and uranium fields of the far north, clamor arose for construction of a permanent highway that could be used the year-round in serving the needs of the expanding northland mining projects.

Hon. W. A. Fallow, Alberta minister of public works, showed early interest.

THE DOMINION government soon evinced interest and negotiations for a joint highway construction were opened between the two governments, resulting in an agreement finally being reached. The Manalx-Dutton firm of Calgary was awarded the contract for construction of the highway through Alberta, while Bond Construction Co. Ltd. of Regina, obtained the contract for the section passing through the North West Territories.

A great task was presented in clearing and brushing the right-of-way, which was not fully completed until May 15 last. Then the work of moving dirt, grading and gravelling began in May of 1947.

One of the wettest summers in northern history held back the scheduled progress of the work in 1947. It had been originally planned to complete the highway before freeze-up this year.

Edward M. Taylor, general manager of the Bond Construction Cd. Ltd., now in Edmonton for the winter months, described some of the problems confronting the engineers in charge of the road.

Permafrost and wet weather have been the biggest problems to date but both have been pretty well whipped, Mr. Taylor said.

The permafrost problem was one that plagued U.S. Army engineers while building the Alaska Highway and the Canol pipe line road.

PERMAFROST is the portion of ground that remains permanently frozen in the far north from varying depths up toward the surface.

Building roads by the ordinary methods employed in settled sections of the country is of no use in the Arctic and sub-Arctic regions. If cutting and scraping of the ground surface is carried out, whole sections of the highway will cave in after the warm sun thaws the permafrost in the short northern summers. Roads must therefore be always built up so that the permafrost will be maintained.

Permafrost was a real problem for the first 15 miles south from Lower Hay River pool. On this stretch a large portion of the road had to be built up from "borrow pits," or gravel and clay pits along the route. Permafrost was only a foot below the surface in many places.

A CLOSE STUDY of the problem had been made by Walter Campbell, resident engineer for the federal highway project. The highway here goes through the Hay River delta and had to be filled in for a distance of two miles. Flood waters last spring, rising to unprecedented heights, added to the difficulties of construction.

Fortunately there is ample gravel along the river valley.

One feature of the highway is the many twists and curves. It was decided to stick close to the river as there was a good deposit of clay loam on the bank. Further back the country is largely muskeg.

The problems have been overcome, however, and engineers state the highway will be safe for high speed traffic and for the heaviest truck loads.

The road will bisect a country rich in timber and saltable for lumbering. Spruce, birch and poplar are plentiful, some trees being 20 inches in diameter at base. As the result of the new highway lumbering is likely to become of increasing importance. One saw mill is already operating toward the north end of the road. The timber could furnish all needed local supplies.

The highway will pass through picturesque country, with Alexandra and Victoria falls rare scenic gems.

As the highway connects directly with the Edmonton-Calgary highway to the U.S. boundary, the new route may well attract many tourists from the south. A boon in the town of Lower Hay River Port is also expected.

German Plan

crisis with French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault at a private dinner. The meeting may determine to what degree France will join Britain and America in converting all of Western Germany into a "workshop" for the Marshall plan.

Before the London conference opened, sources close to Marshall said he rejected the whole concept of a separate peace as unworkable. He admitted "some kind of accommodation" would have to be found for Western Germany in the case of the council failure, but ruled out a separate peace.

THE SAME SOURCES were asked today whether the events of the last week had changed Marshall's mind. The answer was:

"There has been no change on that issue. Something else must be worked out for truncated Germany, but we can't do it with a separate peace with Western Germany."

The council of foreign ministers appeared doomed. A headline in the London Daily Mail expressed the sentiments of many of the delegates to the conference. It was "dead, done, damned."

Each of the three foreign ministers of the west felt that the council should be abolished under the present circumstances, although none of them was likely to make a specific move to do it formally.

THE ONLY FORMAL tie left after the ministers broke up last night, ending one of the angriest meetings of diplomats in recent history, was the Austrian peace treaty deputies. They will meet tomorrow to consider the complicated Russian proposal that Austrian oil deemed by the Soviet to be German assets be used as German reparations.

Molotov was the last of the Russian party to get to Northolt airport and delayed the takeoff 45 minutes. The Russians looked cheerful. They laughed and joked with Lord Pakenham, the British minister to Germany, who came to see them off.

ON THE EXPRESS request of the Soviet embassy, Royal Air Force police guarded the plane in which Molotov, Vassily D. Sokolovsky, ministers of the Soviet zone of Germany, flew. The rest of the Russian delegation took off in a second plane.

"Red Dean"

well known for his championship of the cause of Russia and her satellites.

"The dean's office and jurisdiction in this country does not extend beyond the confines of the cathedral body of which he is head," the statement said. "Outside those limits he speaks and acts for himself. The Archbishop of Canterbury has neither responsibility for what the dean may say or do nor power to control it."

DR. JOHNSON has been called the "Red Dean" since he told an interviewer seeking to establish his political views "call me Red."

After a visit to Russia in 1936 he declared that there was nothing essentially anti-religious in Russian Communism. It was doing much that Christians had forgotten to do. His book on Russia "The Socialist Sixth of the World" sold 250,000 copies in the United States.

LAST OCTOBER, Dr. Johnson returned from a nine-week tour of Eastern Europe to say that he was deeply impressed with the need to tell the people of Britain and the United States the truth about what was happening in those "splendid new worlds."

Order Editors

incial executive had authorized the permission.

Mrs. Griffith's telegram to Dingman stated: "Since our welfare study report is designed primarily to further knowledge and good standards of welfare in Alberta, the order is only too glad to have New Liberty use any excerpts or reference, etc., therein with full enjoyment of any copyright that vests in the order." The telegram was signed Eleanor Griffith, provincial secretary of the provincial chapter of the IODE.

Mr. Smith suggested the attendance of Dr. Charlotte Whitton would be necessary to give evidence in this matter. Mr. Smith also submitted that the Royal Commission had been authorized last summer, and held its first sitting late in August. If the IODE had not given the authority the article probably would not have been published. "Considerable responsibility rests with the IODE," said Mr. Smith.

Chief Justice Howson, addressing Mrs. Griffith, Tuesday morning, said "From the dates of the correspondence it is quite evident you (Mrs. Griffith), Dr. Written, and the executive of the IODE knew a commission had been appointed to deal with the controversy between the IODE and the welfare department on the 12th day of August. You, and the Daughters of the Empire, Mr. Dingman, and the publisher of the magazine all knew the powers given to this commission. You all knew the authority under which this commission was set up and you all knew where the lieutenant-governor received his authority. With full knowledge of this proceeding you, and those for whom you work, went ahead and gave the authorization."

"This article is one of the most scurrilous I have ever read, and when I say that I am speaking for the other members of the commission as well.

"We are all satisfied that a contempt has been committed. The IODE, the publisher, and the author are in the same position, and while at the moment we do not intend to make any order against you (Mrs. Griffith) we want you to understand it is standing until a final disposition is made. "We want to warn you that this commission, which is a court, and all the other courts in this province have to be respected. I have no doubt that you and your associates knew that was the law. I am simply telling you now, this matter is not dropped but will be further considered by the commission to see what steps will be taken against all, including Dr. Whitton. In the meantime you will refrain from bringing any further contempts against the commission."

Mr. Mahaffy, commission counsel, said he had telephoned magazine distributors in Edmonton, Calgary and Lethbridge asking if distribution of the magazine this week could be stopped. They had all shown extreme willingness to co-operate, he said.

Think Passengers Held for Ransom

HONG KONG, Dec. 18.—(AP)—China sea pirates, who swarmed over the Dutch passenger ship Van Heutz, kidnapped six passengers and escaped in commandeered junks, with loot valued at $500,000 United States.

Presumably the buccaneers will hold the six passengers for ransom. Identities of the captives were not known.

Apparently some of the pirates, disguised as passengers, had boarded the Van Heutz in Hong Kong. They took over the ship at gun point when confederates lurking in Bias Bay swarmed aboard to reinforce them.

Syrian Premier Jamil Mardam Bey was quoted in Cairo dispatches as saying the announcement would be a "decisive" one.

REUTERS NEWS AGENCY said a Cairo dispatch quoted a newspaper report that Premier Nokrashy Pasha of Egypt had told his cabinet of an Arab League decision not to put regular Arab forces into the Palestine "fight against Zionism."

According to the report, Nokrashy Pasha said the Arab governments had decided to raise an initial fund of £1,000,000 ($4,000,000) to finance the liberation of Palestine.

The Egyptian cabinet was stated to have approved an Arab League Council decision to open recruiting centres for volunteers and give them training, transport and other facilities.

Request Steps Taken To Protect Wild Game

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE, Dec. 16.—The Dominion government will be asked to take immediate steps to control the wild animals which are killing off game in both the National Parks and beyond their boundaries, it was decided at a recent meeting here of the Organized Outfitters of the Foothills area and the Rocky Mountain House district. The meeting was conducted by Ray Mustard, president, and Kenneth Dazell, secretary-treasurer.

EACH OUTFITTER present gave an individual report on the game supply this fall as compared with previous years. These outfitters, all experienced hunters, reported that so far there is no shortage of moose in the Clearwater and Brazeau Forests. But, they agreed there is a definite shortage of deer and big rams and if conditions remain as they are at present, next year's report will be far worse. Forest rangers report that sheep are migrating to the eastern slopes of the Rockies, within the Parks boundaries, in an effort to escape extermination.

As anything pertaining to game is of vital importance in this district, the meeting gave this situation long and careful study. And all attending agreed that the shortage is caused by cougars, timber wolves, coyotes, wolverine and eagles who are protected in the parks.

A PETITION was drafted at the meeting to be sent to the Dominion Parks Branch urging immediate measures be taken to stop the increase of beasts in the parks and forest reserves. Many of the outfitters present at the meeting had witnessed the wholesale slaughter of not only sheep but also deer and moose by these animals. They voiced their unanimous opinion that unless some drastic steps were taken at once against these "killers," the tourist and hunter business in this district would become non-existent within a very few years.

Henry Stelfox, who has been a game warden here for the last 35 years, spoke on the game situation and stated that there is rapid increase in these wild animals in the forest reserves. He said that unless the Dominion government employed means to exterminate these beasts within the National Parks of Alberta, the wild life of our province will become extinct.

AS A FURTHER protection for sheep in the Clearwater and Brazeau forest reserves a resolution was drafted for approval by the Provincial Outfitters Association, which suggested that a new regulation be made whereby no hunter would be allowed to kill any sheep under four years old.

Among those present were: J. R. H. Hall, superintendent of Forestry; Henry Stelfox, representative of the organized sportsmen of Alberta and also representative for the advisory council of the Alberta Fish and Game Association; outfitters Jack Browning, C. W. Sands, Tam Jamieson, Jim Milburn, Lorraine Barnes, Dewey Browning, Robert Bugbee, Del Wing and Harold Jamieson. L. St. Clair also attended.

No Mismanagement Says Trustee Head

TORONTO, Dec. 16.—(CP)—Maj.-Gen. Victor A. S. Williams, chairman of the board of trustees appointed by the Ontario government to administer the canteen fund raised by veterans of the First World War denied last night the money had been mismanaged.

He claimed the board had functioned for 20 years in an efficient manner and without criticism. "Reports properly audited by a firm of chartered accountants have been made every year to the government at Ottawa and there has been no suggestion of disagreement with the course pursued," he said.

He was replying to a charge made Saturday at the annual convention of the Ontario Command of the Canadian Corps Association that administration costs of the fund "appear to be out of proportion" to the benefits received by veterans, and that money had been given a veterans organization for administrative purposes.

So They May Still Carol in Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Dec. 16.—(CP)—The centuries-old Yule custom of Carol singing on city streets nearly disappeared from Vancouver yesterday.

Aldermen criticized the practice as "a guise for street begging."

Ald. R. K. Gervin objected because he thought it gave visitors the impression Vancouver could not look after its poor and Ald. Jack Price classed it as a system of "panhandling."

However, the city lawyer, told them that while begging came under the criminal code it could be permitted when a clergyman gave the "beggar" a letter approving of his effort. The matter was dropped.

served by the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid. Mr. Brown addressed the gathering, outlining the tentative plans for the several Kinsmen projects for 1948.

Foremost in this agenda was the "Food for Britain" campaign which is intended to be the subject of an all-out Kinsmen drive. New members who were initiated by the governor are: Clarence Schierer, R. Slaymaker, Vern Slaymaker, Robert Barber, Duncan Wilson, Kenneth Lake, Daniel Royer and Gordon Buck.

Arrives From England

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE, Dec. 16.—Mr. and Mrs. B. Smith of Alhambra entertained recently in honor of Mrs. Edward Wilson, an English bride arrived this month from Essex, England.

Like all other English brides here, she just cannot believe there is as much food as she sees in stores and kitchens. Nor does it seem possible one is allowed all the lights and fuel one wants, or can pay for.

Re-Elect Mrs. Parks

ESTHER, Dec. 16. — Annual meeting of the Rush Centre Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Henry Muhlbach recently. Elections were held with all officers of the past term returned by acclamation. Mrs. J. Parks will continue in the office of president, Mrs. John Padberg as vice-president, and Mrs. Gerald Alary as secretary-treasurer. Mrs. F. W. Beynon and Mrs. J. Parks were nominated as the committee in charge of programs. It was proposed to send parcels to needy people in Europe and many useful gifts were contributed by the members. The next meeting will be held in January at the home of Mrs. F. Beynon.

Christmas Courtesy

If Christmas is a time for good will, it is not too early for Edmonton people, afoot and in motor car, to show evidences of this in the stores, on the streets and in their homes.

One of the most striking manifestations of good will is courtesy. The person who lacks courtesy at this season is completely lacking in the Christmas spirit.

There should be courtesy first in the home. This period preceding Christmas Day should be a season of tolerance, thoughtfulness, helpfulness and co-operation.

There should be courtesy in the stores. It is well to remember that those engaged in the business of serving your needs are undergoing unusual demands on their time and energy and patience. Courtesy towards the clerks and courtesy between one customer and another is one of the obligations of seasonal good will.

Above all, there should be courtesy on the streets. This is a time of year when traffic is unusally heavy. It is a time of year when the subtle undertone of excitement is too likely to translate itself into undue haste and impatience and selfishness.

Surely the thoughtfulness which impels motorists to give laden pedestrians the right of way at intersections, which impels them to drive with unusual care, which impels them to every courtesy of the road, is as much a part of the true celebration of Christmas as the tree or the lights or the carols.

This is a season of good will. It is a season of courtesy. Edmonton will reveal a respect for Christmas in proportion to the manner in which her people display these qualities.

A Victory for Reaction

The breakdown of the conference of Big Four foreign ministers will surprise nobody. Mr. Marshall was doubtful of any important outcome when he left for London, and the course of events has confirmed his unhopeful forecast.

There was a faint glimmer of promise last week, when Mr. Molotov agreed as to how the question of making peace with Germany should be approached. But he squelched that hope a day or so later by saying that Russia intended to collect $10,000,000,000 reparations from Germany; to which the other three replied that Russia has already carried off $7,000,000,000 worth of German machinery and materials without telling its allies anything about it.

That candid interchange apparently marked the parting of the ways. The ministers took time out Saturday to cool off, but came back Monday to adjourn without naming a time and place to meet again.

If either "side" won through the breakdown it is Russia. The reconstruction of Germany, the power-house of western Europe, is thereby blocked indefinitely, and a blow struck at the success of the Marshall plan. No other country than Russia stands to gain anything from this victory for reaction.

The Unhappy Statesman

Earl Baldwin of Bewdley is dead at the age of 80, and thus closes the career of an English statesman to whom was given some of the most arduous and painful tasks ever allotted to any prime minister in the history of his country.

The late Lord Baldwin lived the last years of his life in almost complete retirement, not only because of his failing health, but because of his association with that mad and most fatal period when the democratic nations of the world, in the face of all the evidence, refused to take seriously the fantastic intentions of Hitler.

There have those who have attempted to fasten upon Lord Baldwin most of the blame for the blindness of those days. It is a verdict that might much better be left to the dispassionate and perspective judgment of history.

For if Lord Baldwin was blind, so was the world blind. So utterly incredible were Hitler's plans that it is difficult to hold culpable those who failed to believe in their wild reality. Indeed, had Lord Baldwin chosen to warn the nation, his warnings would doubtless have received the same scornful inattention as was given to the warnings of Winston Churchill, or to those of Lord Roberts before the First Great War.

Earl Baldwin, then Stanley Baldwin, was prime minister at the time of the abdication of Edward VIII. This affair placed the prime minister in a most painful and perplexing situation. Nevertheless, he carried through his duty with tact and delicacy and fine feeling. It was almost entirely due to his able efforts that the change in the royal line was effected without visible disruption of government and without any loss of prestige to the Monarchy.

Lord Baldwin was a capable and honorable man. His part in the events leading up to the war can only be honestly and intelligently estimated when time has enabled observers to view and evaluate all angles of the picture.

Taxpayers Have First Claim

For the first eight months of the present fiscal year, Canada's financial operations showed a surplus of more than $572,000,000. This compared with a surplus of $184,000,000 at the corresponding date last year. As the surplus by the end of last year had mounted to $352,000,000, the inference is that when the present year ends, next March, the surplus will be somewhere around $700,000,000,000.

Obviously a heavier cut could have been made in income and other wartime-increased taxes when the last budget was brought down. What is collected in taxes over and above expenditure represents an unnecessary withdrawal of money from the pockets of taxpayers. A sharper cut, particularly in personal income taxes, would have offset the higher cost of living, to the benefit and satisfaction of the consumer.

That the surplus would mount as it has mounted was not, however, certain seven months ago, and the budget tax-reductions were evidently tempered by the reflection that it is better to be safe than sorry. And there is no indication that business has suffered in any serious way because so much money was taken out of circulation. It can even be suspected that if more had been left in circulation prices would have soared still higher. Consumers do "bid prices up" when they have plenty to spend.

From the national stand-point it is all to the good that the finances are in the position shown. If income was merely equalling outgo, with taxes at their present level, that would be something to worry about. What would Mr. Attlee give to be able to report a correspondingly heavy balance on the right side of the ledger?

When a government has a huge surplus, one of two things can be done. Taxes can be cut down, or expenditure can be increased — including of course a reduction of debt. There is not much room for doubt which course should be taken when another budget is made up. The tax-payer should get prior consideration. In particular, people of relatively low incomes should get relief. The exemption limits for personal income taxes should be moved up to $1,000 for single persons and $2,000 for married persons. That would spread the easement equitably all across the board, while those in the lower brackets would get the greater relief.

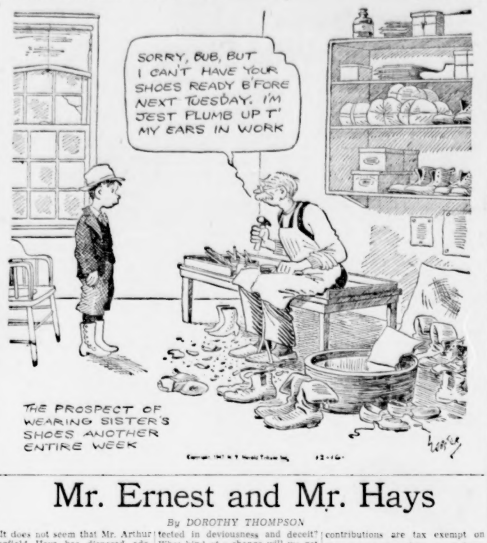
LIFE'S DARKEST MOMENTS -:- by Webster



Mr. Ernest and Mr. Hays

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

It does not seem that Mr. Arthur Garfield Hays has disposed adequately of the proposal of Mr. Morris Ernst that all organizations operating in political and economic areas of American life be compelled to disclose their memberships and give a public accounting of their finances.

Both Mr. Hays and Mr. Ernst are attorneys, who have valiantly defended the cause of civil liberties throughout their lives. Mr. Ernst's recommendations are supported by the Bar Association of the City of New York.

Mr. Hays says, "Legislation that would strip from political and economic organizations the right to operate anonymously would hinder democracy by discouraging freedom of expression." If a man were forced to put his opinions on the public record, it would not, he says, that it might be dangerous to hold unpopular opinions and would create timidity.

THOMPSON

It is right here that I lose track of Mr. Hay's argument. If anyone has the right to speak up for his opinion in a free society, where is the merit of the opinion? Since when has freedom of expression carried with it the guarantee that it would not be dangerous to "popularity"? How can constructive change be harmonized with democracy when its advocates are protected in deviousness and deceit? What kind of a change will we get that way?

WHAT MR. ERNST is trying to get at is the habit of such organizations as the Communists and fascists to mask their aims under "front" organizations and solicit the public for one cause while diverting their support to another.

Mr. Ernst believes—and so do I, on the basis of a huge amount of circumstantial evidence — that people are contributing to Communism, for instance, who have not the slightest sympathy for the Communist program but wish to defend human rights in specific instances. Mr. Ernst maintains that people have a right to knowledge.

ACTUALLY, THE problem goes far beyond the possibly subversive organizations from which funds or trust funds. Men properly are sent to prison for violation of trusts held within the financial framework of the nation. The law forbids political contributions by corporations or other groups whose funds are derived from stockholders, yet no controls—even the control of publicity—govern the use of funds collected by hundreds of other organizations. Many of these contributions are tax exempt on the ground that they are "educational" or "charitable," though their "education" may be political propoganda and their charity devoted to political objectives.

Quite apart from the possibilities of such secrecy offers subversive groups — the public—it seems to me—ought to know what proportion of its contributions, in each case, goes to charity, to the advertised beneficiaries, and what part goes to overhead. In many cases the public would be surprised, I think, to know how much of its charity goes for the support of highly paid executive secretaries and public relations' counsels. There is at least one organization operating in the domain of public health which, rumor has it, is swamped in funds which it has been unable to spend for its advertised purpose. Yet it continues year by year to solicit the public.

THE OBJECT of constitutional liberties is precisely to render it safe for the individual to operate openly under the protection of the law. They are not a cloak for conspiracy. Nor have conspiratorial movements grew up under despotic governments, where they were forced to operate in secret in countries which had few—if any—constitutional safeguards. But the transplantation of their methods to America is an ugly aspect of American life, and a very dangerous one.

U.N. Balance Sheet

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

Lake Success: Now that the United Nations Assembly has adjourned its most important session, every government in the world is attempting to assess its results. Was the Assembly a failure because it widened instead of narrowing the gulf between Russia and the free world? Was it a success because it was not completely lyzed by this disagreement and went ahead with its business despite Russia's attempt to halt it?

No one can safely answer that question yet. Everything will depend on the outcome of the procedure undertaken by the Assembly and, still more, on the great movements of world politics outside the United Nations. But certainly it can be said with assurance that the Assembly ended its meeting in a condition far better than anyone could have expected when it began.

THE GREAT fact emerging from ten weeks of bitter controversy, from Russia's long blockade, from abuse, distortion and shouting confusion, is abundantly clear. The Assembly, given the two alternatives of inaction and action without Russian support, chose the latter. Out of that fact, once established, emerged another: Russia, for all its intransigence, deeply fears the moral power of the Assembly which it could not suppress. Of that the hysterical Russian speeches, the vain attempts to stop the Assembly doing anything, is the best proof.

CONSIDER the business of the Assembly in greater detail, a rough balance sheet may be set up.

On the credit side the Assembly can claim five major achievements. It intervened in the Balkan border dispute though it has no power, of course, to enforce peace which is the business of the deadlocked Security Council and established a watching commission in Greece, despite Russia's frantic opposition. It formed an interim commission, the Little Assembly, to carry forward its work until it meets next year, even though Russia threatened to boycott this instrument altogether. It instructed the Little Assembly to consider new rules governing the use of the Security Council veto in procedural questions even though Russia called this an attempt to breach the Charter. It established a commission to promote elections and democratic government in Korea where Russia intends to conceal all these efforts. Finally, with Russian agreement on this issue alone, it laid down a plan for the partition of Palestine.

ANYONE WHO attended the San Francisco conference will realize at once that these decisions have taken the Assembly into areas of international politics far beyond the bounds of the Charter expected. The prevention of aggression in the Balkans is the business primarily of the Security Council, which could not act over the Russian veto. The establishment of the Little Assembly likewise was compelled by the frustration of the Security Council and would never have been proposed if that council had been working effectively. The same cause produced the attempt to amend power of veto. Under the plans of San Francisco the establishment of a Korean government was to be no business of the United Nations but a task for the victorious powers in the peace settlement. And certainly no one imagined in San Francisco that the Assembly would undertake to create two new states in Asia Minor.

But the Assembly was forced down these unexplored paths not by its own wishes but by the compulsion of events. It had to take its courage in its hands (together, perhaps with the life of the United Nations) and carry it once admit that the hopes of San Francisco were already void.

THE DIRECTION and dimensions of the Assembly's decisions can now be gauged in general. What has been done in the last two months is clear beyond doubt—world power which the Charter intended to centralize in the Security Council has flowed from it, by default, into the Assembly. Given the paralysis of the Security Council, power had to flow into the Assembly or disappear out of the United Nations altogether. Now great the real power of the Assembly is now, as a result of this basic movement, events during the next year or two will show. How far the Assembly's rulings will be obeyed, especially by Russia, it is too early to say.

In reckoning the general prospects of the United Nations, now that the Assembly has decided to move ahead, the other side of the ledger must be examined.

The debit side contains a series of failures. The greatest, obviously is the failure to reconcile Russia with the other nations in any important issue except Palestine, but that failure cannot be properly charged to the Assembly since it is inherent in Russia's policy of isolation and expansion. Secondly, the Assembly failed to effect compliance with three resolutions passed a year ago—those suggesting that South-West Africa be placed under a United Nations trusteeship, that Indians in South Africa be accorded better treatment and that all United Nations members withdraw their ambassadors and ministers from Spain. Thirdly, and much more important, the Assembly made no progress whatever in the main business of its previous session—disarmament and the control of atomic weapons.

IN THE short run at least, these failures are more than over-balanced by the achievements noted above. Indeed, the fact that the United Nations emerged intact and functioning from the opening Assembly clash between Russia and the western states is in itself an achievement which only a strong optimist would have predicted two months ago. But another striking thing accomplished at Lake Success this autumn must be considered as temporary and subject to the future development of the cold war between Russia and the world at large. These large prospects involving the whole shape and future of the United Nations, and of world peace, will have to await another dispatch from Lake Success.

Smiles

The bus conductor had been told off several times for the many made coming home after late duty. "I wish you'd try to be more careful, Jim." his wife said to him. "I don't wake the baby every time you come in."

Jim promised to do his best. After a week of late duty he quietly he opened the front door without a sound, crept upstairs without a single creak, and reached the top landing safely.

Then habit asserted itself. In a stentorian voice he bellowed: "All fares ready, please!"

The hotel manager was passing down the corridor one morning when he saw the Boots kneeling at one of the bedroom doors cleaning a pair of shoes.

"What are you doing?" he asked. "Take them down to the basement at once and clean them there."

"Impossible, sir," replied the Boots. "There's a cautious gentleman inside the room and he's hanging onto the laces."

The Brit.-Russ. Deal

By ELMORE PHILPOTT

Britain has just cancelled her long term contract to buy Canadian wheat, bacon and so on. Britain has just concluded a new contract to buy Russian wheat, lumber and similar products.

While these facts will come as a shock to some mischief-makers and while they offer a striking sidelight on the recent move in the U.S. to refuse to sell machinery to Russia except for gold, there is no real mystery about them.

The cause of the worst headaches which finance ministers have these days is where to get the means of payment for what their countries have to buy.

PHILPOTT

Hungry Britain would like to go on buying Canadian wheat, meat, etc., but "what will we use for money?" they ask in vain.

The Russians say:

"We can tell you what to use for money. Use British-made machinery, steel rails, and so on, which we will take in fair exchange."

THE FACTS OF life are that Russia needs what Britain can make—and Britain must eat.

Most of the products which Britain wants to sell on a long term basis compete with Canadian manufacturers. Canada is a highly industrialized country. If we take payment for what we sell to Britain in the form of machine tools, steel rails, etc., we simply deprive our own factories of the same business.

But that does not say Canada could not make a new deal with Britain which would enable Britain to go right on buying as much more of our wheat, meat, fish, lumber as she has in the past.

Canada could, and should say:

"John Bull, your money is good with us. If we want you to buy everything you need, and which we have for sale at a fair world price. We will accept your money in payment for what you buy. We will not demand payment either in Canadian dollars or American dollars."

SUCH A MOVE would automatically solve Britain's worst problem, so far as it applies to trade with Canada.

It would also automatically solve one of Canada's most immediate problems. For unless some such emergency move is made we shall surely wake up some morning soon to find that we have been hit as by an economic hurricane.

The British market has long been one of the main pillars of the whole Canadian economy. If it is suddenly pulled out, we could face a serious and sudden collapse.

IF CANADA WERE to accept British pounds sterling in payment for British purchases made in Canada, our own hand would be strengthened for putting the same proposition up to Uncle Sam.

Canada could say to the United States:

"Uncle Sam, we don't need to remind you that we are your next door neighbor, and best customer. But we have had to make the most drastic cuts on what we have been buying from you because we can't find enough of your money to pay for what we want."

If the United States would accept Canadian money for Canadian purchases in the United States we would be no need to retain the crippling restrictions on buying which Ottawa recently applied.

The United States would have to set up some kind of an agency whose job it would be to keep the money pouring back into Canada. In any year when the U.S. did not spend enough money to keep the trade even on private current account she could make planned capital investments in Canada.

She would buy back Canadian industrial and individual shares in U.S. companies, and morigages and bonds secured by U.S. property. She could promote vastly increased tourist traffic to Canada.

(We could apply the same principle in our accounts with Britain.)

THE WHOLE BUSINESS would be simple as ABC if America, Britain and Canada would only try it out as an example to the whole world.

But let us not fool ourselves. Failing some such really big and bold approach, we are due for more heavy jolts.

SAVE THE FORESTS

Editor, Bulletin—Not quite a year ago two young trappers came here for spring work. They were seeking to locate another trap line in the Peace River country. The one they had had given them for some years an average of $4,000 income per winter.

The area had been filled with trees, some as big as a wash tub, but fire had swept the whole area and with the destruction of the forest and game, trappers were starved out also.

As an organizer for the farm institutes for Peace River years ago, I used to drive through many miles of grand timber. Now we travel along through miles of dead trees, cut, but burnt.

At the recent farmers' convention in Edmonton, a young forest ranger said, regarding the depletion of our forest, he estimated one quarter was by cutting and three quarters by fire. I understand that a provincial government revenue from timber dues is greater than that received in royalties from oil.

The timber of Alberta with its value to the trapper and the government, and for supplying the lumber for houses, is worth spending money on to preserve. Reforestation is very costly and slow, a matter of 100 years. We can request the lumberman not to destroy the younger trees, but the greatest factor in preserving all our timber wealth is to avoid its destruction by fire.

We still have patches of virgin forest comprising millions of feet in quite small areas. We have the money and machinery and can get ready to clear wide fire lanes around our best stands of timber. These lanes should be cleared as a government project. The initial cost would be high but the grain crops grown thereon would ultimately go a long way to meeting the cost.

In case of a forest fire in an outlying area, inaccessible except on foot or by pack horse, fire fighting equipment could be rushed along the lanes to halt further disaster to our remaining wealth which is no longer unlimited.

EXERCISE NECESSARY

Editor, Bulletin — A prominent medical authority thinks that society has warned people over forty to refrain from shovelling snow and raking long distances through the snow.

As one in the over-forty class who has given a little study to matters of health, I would say that I thoroughly disagree with statements of this kind. What we should be told is some constructive suggestions for health building rather than negations like this.

I do not believe that the way to health lies in luxurious coddling and physical ease. What we need in most cases is more exercise, not less. All muscles of the body should be regularly and systematically exercised up to the point, but not beyond that at which tiredness begins.

It is only by exercising that we develop and strengthen our muscles. Muscles which are not exercised degenerate. The heart is a muscle and it must also be strengthened by regular systematic exercise up to the point where tiredness begins.

We should be told to eat moderately of vital body building foods. Overeating of refined, devitalized food adds excess weight, overburdens the heart, but does not build health and vitality.

In many cases our muscles are not sufficiently used in daily life but our digestive, circulatory and eliminative organs are overworked, thus leading to degeneration of the tissues and lack of resistance.

So rather than stop snow shoveling and begin preparing for the old men's decline, let us by positive constructive thinking, exercising and eating begin to lay the foundation for a long active successful life from forty to one hundred.

NO CHOICE

Editor, Bulletin — Premier de Valera's Irish press feels perturbed because the people of United States writers on the failure of the government of Eire in not sending a wedding present to Princess Elizabeth. Under the circumstances what else could Mr. de Valera have done? Only a few months previous when Great War No. 2 was at its most critical stage, it was said de Valera visited the German Consulate in Dublin, and on behalf of himself and the Irish people presented their condolence with the German Ambassador on the death of Hitler.

It was not known then, and we doubt if it is known now, that the Northern Ireland Government on behalf of 100 years of connection saved Eire from annihilation by the German Army, Navy and Air Forces.

Mr. Churchill's eulogy of Northern Ireland had had a strong reaction in Britain in favor of partition; that it still will further strengthened in the attitude of prominent leaders in the Labor Cabinet.

HELP THE VETERANS

Editor, Bulletin — What with peace and wages going up everywhere, what and when is something going to be done for the poor bunged-up veterans?

What are the veterans' associations doing?

Their primary object, I think, should be to look after their poorest, neglected comrades.

The powers that be, raise their own salaries whenever they think fit to raise them; they say that we live on the fat salary they are already getting. Then how on earth do they think a VCP can live on $1 a day and pay for everything including rent?

There are the odd suicides at times and I would sincerely like to see something done quickly before we have all passed on.

Endorse Principle Uniform Cities' Act

Edmonton's city council Monday afternoon unanimously endorsed the principle of a uniform city act for Alberta cities, subject however to the reservation of rights to the city as may be deemed advisable, and subject also to the approval of city council of the terms of any city act as drafted.

THIS ACTION was taken by aldermen following a statement by Hon. C. E. Gerhart, minister of municipal affairs, who told council members that the provincial legislature had instructed his department to make a survey of the cities with a view to establishing a uniform city act for all cities.

The minister said that the setting up of a uniform city act would not affect any of the powers now possessed by cities in their charters, but in many cases would increase the powers of cities. This increase would result when a city asked for and was granted an amendment to the proposed city act to meet some situation within that municipality. Automatically, he said, this power would be available to the other cities if they desired to use it.

He said there were several matters in which the government desired uniformity. They included uniformity in the qualifications of electors, aldermen and mayoralty candidates, uniformity in the factors of assessment, uniformity in tax recovery proceedings, and also in daylight saving. He added that action would have to be taken by the provincial government on the latter question whether or not the cities came to an agreement on that question.

MR. GERHART TOLD aldermen that the J. W. Judge report on municipal assessment would contain certain recommendations which would affect to some degree powers now contained in the city's charter.

Mr. Gerhart said it would be a great advance if uniformity could be agreed upon for the several points be mentioned, adding that from there further factors of uniformity could be developed.

HE SAID THAT if the principle of the city act was adopted by council the new act could not be introduced into the legislature until 1943 at least. He added there was a great deal of work to be done and consultations would have to take place between solicitors of the Alberta cities to arrive at the terms of the proposed new act. He added that the attorney-general's department would be prepared to draft this act, and to give every assistance to the municipalities in their work.

Govt. Controls

did not believe it would be possible for the exchange bill, the bill providing for production subsidies to gold mines, or the bill increasing excise taxes on certain goods to be put through all stages before the Christmas adjournment. He felt the best that might be done would be to have them introduced.

Mr. King suggested Mr. Abbott be allowed to make his statement on the exchange bill today and that debate then be resumed on the agricultural product act resolution.

John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, objected and said if Mr. Abbott spoke all parties ought to have equal opportunity. Mr. King said he had no objection.

HOWEVER, the agricultural products act resolution had to be passed and he would have to hold the adjournment date, tentatively set for Friday, in advance pending progress in the house.

Mr. Bracken and M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, asked if it would not be possible for Agriculture Minister Gardiner to make a proposed statement on the action the government planned to provide increased returns to farmers for their products.

Mr. Gardiner said such a statement could not be made until the conclusion of the current renegotiation of food contracts with United Kingdom representatives. He doubted that such a statement could be made by Friday.

Arrives In London By Plane

Barbara Ann Isn't "Sore" At Critics

LONDON, Dec. 16.—(CP)—A "trifle tired" after an airplane trip from Canada, Barbara Ann Scott, accompanied by her mother and trainer Sheldon Galbraith, arrived here early today.

She expressed, in an interview, the hope of seeing Jacob and Arnold Gerschwiler, Swiss figure-skating coaches, who "panned" her early in November.

Jacob Gerschwiler said that the Ottawa skater was "the weakest figure skater to my mind we have had to hold the world's championship in many years."

Barbara Ann, who was more than a two-month continental itinerary during which she will defend her European and world titles, will compete in the winter Olympics at St. Moritz, Switzerland, said that she was not "sore" at the Gerschwilers.

"WHY, IT'S JUST a matter of opinion," she said.

The party leaves London Wednesday for Davos, Switzerland, but in the meantime they will have the opportunity of sizing up British challengers for the titles. Two two-day British championships at Wembley Stadium conclude today and Barbara Ann "might" go out and watch the final sessions.

Barbara Ann, who has been practicing seven to eight hours daily for months in indoor arenas, is faced with all outdoor ice on the continent but she says that it doesn't bother her.

"I GUESS I'll be the hardy type," she said with a smile. She has won her titles on outdoor rinks at Davos and Stockholm last winter.

She will start practice on arrival at Davos and plans to go to Prague Jan. 5 to prepare for the European championship Jan. 13-15. After the championships, she will retire to Switzerland—either Davos or St. Moritz—and train for the Olympics Jan. 30-Feb. 8.

The world tournament is scheduled for Switzerland Feb. 22 and Barbara Ann "hopes to retain the titles and add the prize she has her eyes on—the Olympic championship.

In Skitch Trophy Shoot

Dan Campbell Posts Perfect Rifle Score

The Skitch trophy, classic rifle award for senior small-bore marksmen in the indoor competitions of the Greater Edmonton Rifle Association annually, has fallen to the lot of Dan E. C. Campbell, according to an announcement by R. H. Johnson, chairman of the committee in charge of the competition.

Campbell fired through the qualifying round, the quarter—the semi finals and the finals without dropping a point to score 800 and register the first possible in the history of the event.

IN THE quarter-finals, Garry Barr defeated Howard Wilson, Helen Ramsay defeated Jas. Grieve; Ralph Johnson defeated Davs Helman; and Dan Campbell defeated Jack Mitchell. In the semi-finals, Ramsay defeated Barr and Campbell defeated Johnson.

Entering the final round, Miss Ramsay gave Campbell a stiff competition by turning in a neat possible on the first hundred. Her third target registered a 99 ring but she came back on the fourth with another possible to drop the match by the one point.

The consolation test is still in progress.

Makowichuk, Berry Win Eaton Trophy

Vic Makowichuk and D. L. Berry, bowling pins over at a neat 1,750 clip, captured the T. Eaton Trophy duckpin competition at the "Y" Saturday afternoon.

Ralph Jones and Fred Mullen took second place honors with 1,728. Floyd Page and Spud Muir were third with 1,702, while Vic Hore and George Howe rolled 1,660. Hugh McKay and Watt Ramsey placed fifth with 1,641.

Spud Muir won the high single game with a total of 349. Eddie Beckwith took high triple honors with a big 913 score.

Wetaskiwin Beats Ponoka In Exhibition

PONOKA, Dec. 16.—Wetaskiwin Canadians defeated Ponoka Stampeders by a score of 8-4 in a fast hockey exhibition here Monday night. It was the first game played in the new arena.

Don Robertson and Ken Cook led the Canadians with three goals each, the other two going to Vince LeCour and John Michaluk. Colin Kilburn was in on four.

RAY SPENCER, formerly of Vermilion accounted for two of the Ponoka tallies and Bob Watt, also from Vermilion and Floyd Hantiuk added the others.

The first Central Alberta Hockey League game to be played here is scheduled for Wednesday night, with Alix as opposition.

Higginson Going To Track School

Gordon K. Higginson, coach and founder of the Polar Bear Track and Field Club of Edmonton, will be one of five Canadians and the only man from the west, in attendance when a track and field school convenes in Boston, Mass., from Dec. 26 to Jan. 2.

The purpose of the school is to iron out coaching techniques in preparation for the Olympic Games to be held in England this coming summer.

HIGGINSON coached a number of Varsity track stars last season, including Jim McRae, Doris Nufer, Pat Walker and Nick Lopatchuk.

A third-year Arts and Science student, he also helped coach the Alberta intercollegiate team this season. The Polar Bear club won the Berry trophy at the Dominion track and field meet, held here during the summer. The trophy was awarded the club, which aggregated the most points at the meet.

Rollins Probably Will Play Friday

Al Rollins, goalie for Edmonton Flyers, expects to be okay for the Friday date here with Calgary Stampeders. A ruptured blood vessel, believed to have resulted from the Saturday session with Calgary, kept him on the sidelines for the Regina Caps game last night.

Bud Ward Hits Golf Ball Too Hard For Trap Experts

SPOKANE, Wash., Dec. 16.—(CP)— Three members of the Inland Empire Gun Club have decided that Bud Ward, former United States amateur golf champion, hits a golf ball mighty hard.

Ward, secretary of Spokane's Gagful Knights of the Athletic Round Table, was matched by the Knights against three sportsmen armed with shotguns.

THE PLAN WAS TO SEE IF THE shooters could hit one of Ward's drives.

Standing about three feet away from the trio, Ward hit 10 balls straight away.

The gunners missed them all.

Frank Stoop, one of the three marksmen said:

"THE BALL WAS SO FAR OUT OF range in an instant that I hardly had time to squeeze the trigger."

Each drive travelled about 250 yards and after the 10, the round tablers hiked out to find the balls spotless.

Negotiating For Woody Bell And Bob Dill

Playing Managers For Eskimos And Cubs Are Sought For Big Four Baseball League

Baseball off-season activity is beginning to percolate, with negotiations already underway in the hope of obtaining player managers for Edmonton's two clubs in the Big Four Inter-City League, the Eskimos and Cubs.

Bob Dill, a left hand hitter with good power, playing an outfield position, is being sought to boss the Edmonton Motor Cubs according to Promoters John Ducey and John Bealty. A native of St. Paul, Minnesota, he has a good track ground, having played two years as a centre fielder with Minneapolis Millers of the American Association, 1943-44-45.

IN 1946, Dill was a player-manager for Ogdensburg, N.Y., of the class C Border League. He topped the batting of the Border circuit with a .399 average and was the home run king of the league with 29 circuit smashes. He is a free agent and a colorful performer who excels defensively and with consistent batting quality which draws the fan-home run power.

Ducey has umpired behind Dill in Springfield, Mass. and knows his ability.

A possible leader for the Eskimos, apparently that popular Edmonton sportsman, Brant Matthews, is Woodrow Bell, whom Edmonton fans will remember as a polished performer with the U.S. Army Yanks during the 1945 season.

Bell, a native of New Braunfels, Texas, has an impressive record in the higher circles of organized baseball. Two full seasons in the Texas pre-war Texas League with San Antonio Missions, preceded his army service.

Following his discharge from the circuit, Woody reported to the St. Louis Browns' training camp in the spring of 1946. Assigned to San Antonio, he later obtained his free agency and joined the Mexican League, where he enjoyed much publicized Pasquelle brothers.

IN 1947, BELL played the outfield with brother Beau Bell, ex-major league performer, who bossed the Austin club of the class B Big State League. At present Bell is playing a bit of outfield and clearing out old fences for Mike Gonzales' Havanna club in the Cuban League.

"In the event these two men are not available, Bob Clements, western director of the Brooklyn Dodgers farm system, Eddie Leishman, western director for the New York Yankee chain and Scout Joe Devine have been contacted and requested to recommend player managers who can fill key positions, and who would prove capable leaders for Eskimos and Cubs.

MR. CLEMENTS has advised that he already has one man in mind, a catcher with Santa Barbara in the class C California State League, but terms of agreements and Leishman are aware of the calibre of players wanted and they will assist the Ducey-Bealty talent hunt.

Ducey has been extended an invitation by Mr. Clements to attend the Brooklyn Dodger camp at San Bernadino, California, opening around April 1, where is a good possibility that Brooklyn will conduct a training session for free agents prior to April 1. Ducey will attend both Brooklyn and Yankee training camps, to view players in action before bringing them to Edmonton.

A FURTHER source of talent will come through Ducey's friend Jack Burns Reardon, dean of National League umpires. Beans has advised Ducey that he intends to screen prospective players in the California area and line them up for Ducey's inspection upon his arrival in California.

The Brooklyn baseball school, also ably conducted by Scout Howard Hask at Renfrew Park last summer, will function again in 1948. Brooklyn would like to put the school on in Calgary also. Calgary baseball officials have been contacted and can have this diamond clinic if they act quickly, before the school schedule is completed, said Ducey.

HOWARD CLEMENTS is reported to have said: "If we are doing something for baseball in Edmonton and Northern Alberta, then it is really worthwhile if we never get a ball player out of it, and I am sure that we will uncover some prospects in the near future."

"The Big Four League is the forerunner to what it is hoped will lead to the return of organized professional baseball in 1949 with the revival of the Western Canada League, embracing Calgary, Lethbridge Edmonton, Saskatoon, Regina and Moose Jaw," Ducey remarked.

"Several major league clubs are vitally interested in the formation of the league and this will assure working agreements with major league clubs, for each city in the Western Canada League," he said.

Flyers Curb Closing Regina Splurge 7-6

Edmonton Club Almost Blows Five-Goal Lead

Edmonton's fleet Flyers, riding the crest of a winning streak topped another hockey "giant" last night when they tripped the Regina Caps 7-6, but when the final horn blew most of the more than 4,000 rabid fans breathed a big sigh of relief.

They had good reason to sigh, too, for they watched their favorites come within an ace of blowing a five-goal lead in the last ten minutes of play.

HOLDING a wide edge in play throughout, the Edmonton club had built up a substantial 7-2 lead before the co-leaders with Calgary Stampeders began to click around the Edmonton net and scored in four goals about two minutes apart.

Flyers continued from where they left off after licking the Stampeders 12-8 Saturday night and had the Caps frustrated Reginaites running in circles behind their own blue line a good portion of the game as they laid down accurate passes and kept Fodey jumping between the posts.

They outscored the visitors 2-1 in the opening frame, 3-1 in the middle period and were outscored 4-2 in the last. In that last stanza, even when Regina made its winning bid, the Edmontonians held a 13-7 edge in shots on goal.

The victory left the Flyers tied with Lethbridge Maple Leafs in second place with 20 points, seven digits behind Calgary and Regina. Saskatoon is in the cellar with 12.

BILLY MAHER, improving with every outing, led the Flyer attack with two goals and an assist. Andy Clovechok, the sharpshooter, slapped in a couple, while singletons went to Freddie Smitten, Johnny Black and Bill Pettinger. Gordon Watt, Bud McPherson, Pug Young, Louis Holmes and Morey Rimstad set up plays for goals.

Bill Kyle was the sharpshooter for the Caps with three goals and an assist, while his brother Gus had one of each. Art Fisher set up the plays for two, with single goals going to Toby Brown and Lou Haas.

A PENALTY to Ab McDougall paved the way for a couple of quick Edmonton goals. While Ab was repairing Gordon Watt skipped a long pass to Clovechok, who had taken his station a few feet from the Regina goal. Andy didn't even take time to line it up as he slapped it cleanly into the hemp. Five seconds later Freddie Smitten got possession at the face-off and coasted in for another. A hard back-hand shot did the trick.

Pug Young and Vic Myles were in the "sin bin" when Gus Kyle circled the defence and slid a shot just inside the far post to cut the Flyers' advantage to one. Gus was waved to the penalty box a short time later, but the Reginians managed to weather the rough storm that followed.

THE SECOND period was only 22 seconds old when McPherson relayed the puck to Maher and Bill back-handed the disc between the posts.

Then at the 1:04 mark Maher placed a rink-wide pass on the stick of fast-travelling Johnny Black, who sped right in on Fodey and the goalie didn't have a chance.

CLOVECHOK was back at his old stand a few minutes later to finish off a play with Pug Young and Doug Anderson. The pass was made through the middle of the defencemen and Andy made no mistake with the close-in shot.

The fast tempo of the game began to take its toll of the players' congeniality about midway through the frame and after Dutchy Van Deelan crosschecked Gordon Young moved in and roughed up Van Deelan. Referee Pep Moon gave both players a chance to cool off.

LATER when McPherson was waved to the penalty box Regina notched its second counter. Bill Kyle finishing off a nice pass from the corner.

Bill Pettinger finished off Louis Holmes' play with a beautiful shot from 15 feet out and Rimstad set up Maher for another at the 8:06 mark. Then the Caps had their inning.

BILL KYLE slapped McDougall's relay in from the corner of the goal. Brown steered Fisher's weak, jumpy shot past Manson, Bill Kyle slipped a low screened shot between the goalie's legs, and Vic Myles finished off the spree with another low shot.

With less than two minutes to go, Holmes broke down the right in, but couldn't draw Fodey out. He shot right at the goalie's pads.

Regina — Fodey; Benzie, G. Kyle, B. Kyle, McDougall, Van Deelan; Sales, Brown, Hauck, Fairburn, Wilkie, Blasson, Myles, Schmidt, Fisher.

Edmonton — Manson; Watt, McPherson; Rimstad, Maher, Black; Holmes, Hollett, Merrick; Smitten, Clovechok, Kreller, Pettinger, Young.

Whip Leafs And Canucks

South Side Juveniles; EACs Register Wins

City Juvenile Hockey League schedule opened on both fronts last night, and the South Side and EAC sextets started on the right trail, whipping Maple Leafs and Canadians with identical 4-2 scores.

With Ponoka

Bob Watt, former Vermilion forward, will centre one line for Ponoka Stampeders in the Central Alberta Hockey League game here tomorrow night. Watt was with Edmonton Canadians two seasons ago and for 1946-47 was a member of Art Wiebe's Vermilion Tigers. Wednesday's will be the first league game in Ponoka's new arena.

Playing on their home sheet, the South-Siders dominated most of the play in the first two periods. Rapid-fire goal scoring by Peter Dame and Bill Houston gave the homsters a 2-0 lead in the opening stanza.

SOUTH SIDE continued to press in the middle session, firing another brace of goals without reply from the Leafs. Al Forest notched the first marker of the period, banging home Bud Loftus' pass. Ken Calvert made the score sheet read 4-0 when he slapped Frank Soulie another Loftus pass into the hemp.

However, that was all for South Side as Maple Leafs came back into the fight in the final stanza, scoring two neat goals. Ed Clifton tallied the first marker on Hepburn's assist, while Ross Hoarck finished off the night's scoring on Carnegie's pass.

EACs and Leafs were hard pressed before subduing the fighting Canadian sextet. A two-goal stab by Rosenlus spear-headed the victory drive, while Dick Munroe and Stogryn notched singletons. Herb Flack and Haley counted one apiece for the losers.

Maple Leafs — Bench, Stocks, D. Berry, Hoefle, Mendryk, Carnegie, O. Berry, Easterley, Fedorak, Clifton, Hepburn, Hoarck, Kinamen.

South Side — Calvert, Loftus, Saloff, Parker, Bonnyman, Leah, Dachuk, LaFleche, Pemberton, Ezra (Utter, Dame, Torss, Houston, Fladger, Forest, Official — Joe Wilcox.

SUMMARY

First Period: 1—South Side, Dame, 2—South Side, Houston (Dame).

Second Period: 3 — South Side, Forest (Loftus). 4—South Side, Calvert (Loftus).

Third Period: 5—Maple Leafs, Clifton (Hepburn). 6—Maple Leafs, Hoarck, (Carnegie).

Lethbridge Sons Crush Lions 15-3

LETHBRIDGE, Dec. 16.—(CP)—Lethbridge Native Sons, hitting the stride which carried them to 11 straight Alberta junior "A" hockey league victories, trounced Bellevue Lions 15-3 here last night to move eight points ahead of the second-place Calgary Buffaloes in league standings.

The winners scored seven goals in the first period, six in the second and two in the third. Bill Ramsden and Fred Brown scored four apiece. Leo Holmes, Roy Richardson, George Murphy, Tom McLean, Bob Manson, Mickey Mag ee and Ed Dorobey counted the others. Berlando, Brazzoni and Palmer scored for Bellevue.

Phillies "Invite" Halifax Catcher

HALIFAX, Dec. 16.—(CP)—Chick Charlton, Halifax baseball player, has received an invitation to go south for spring training with Philadelphia Phillies of the National Baseball League, it was learned last night.

Charlton, who caught for Halifax Arrows, Maritime senior baseball champions last season and now is playing with Halifax Crescents of the Maritime Senior Hockey League said he was "much interested" in the offer and was awaiting further word.

Paterson Gains Unpopular Nod

MANCHESTER, England, Dec. 16 —(AP)—World flyweight champion, Jackie Paterson of Glasgow, last night won an unpopular decision over a United States boxer, Al Chavez, although the titleholder was on the floor at the end of their 10-round, non-title bout. Both fighters weighed 116 pounds.

Making his debut in England, Chavez allowed Paterson to force the fight in the first five rounds, but opened up in the sixth and dropped the Scot for a count of five.

JACKIE willed under the American's assault in the subsequent rounds and was exhausted at the finish. He fell late in the 10th round after missing a swing and had taken a count of five at the final bell.

Peter Kane, 117½, England, defended his European bantamweight championship by outpointing Jo Cornelis, 116, Belgium, in a 15-rounder.

Olympic Protest

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—(AP)—The United States Olympic Committee asserted yesterday it will file "a very strong protest" with the International Olympic Committee and the Swiss Organizing Committee over the latter's snubbing of the American committee-sponsored hockey team in the 1948 Winter Games.

SPORTS BULLETIN

Consider Rebuilding Job

RCAF Team Display Raises Hockey Storm

By H. Dent Hodgson

OTTAWA, Dec. 16.—(CP)—Any way you look at it, RCAF Flyers—that is, the hockey team which bowed 7-0 to McGill Redmen at the auditorium here in an exhibition game Saturday—would not be representative of Canada's best amateur hockey at the winter Olympics. They'll need to buck up or be bucked up first.

This statement can be regarded as a quote from RCAF or Canadian Amateur Hockey Association officials, Coach George (Buck) Boucher, sports writers who saw the one-sided game, or the players themselves, depending on how you read it.

THE OFFICIALS ARE believed to be considering moves for a last-minute rebuilding job. The coach and players feel they can put on a better show than they did last Saturday. Some sports writers are calling for a "no-contest" withdrawal, and others who saw the game are convinced that, whether the Flyers go to St. Moritz or not, they won't be representative of Canadian amateur hockey.

RCAF officials are making no secret of their disappointment since the team fell down in its first public appearance—what was to have been a gala Air Force show. They readily admit it was only the superior netminding of Cpl. Joe Tunney of Newmarket, Ont., that kept the washout score from being doubled at least.

NO MOVE has yet been made to disband the team, due to sail Jan. 9, but Norman Dawe of Montreal, 1st vice-president of the CAHA, who saw the Saturday game, and Air Commodore D. E. Mackell, air member for personnel who had fostered the idea, will make plans tonight after seeing the Flyers set as a unit in a city league game.

After that, they will decide how the team should be bolstered—either by importing Army and Navy players or non-service personnel who can sign the simon-pure Olympic oath.

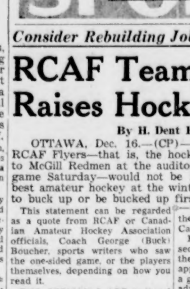
ONE SPOKESMAN recalled that an Air Force team made up mainly of the same players defeated Queen's University 8-3 a few weeks ago and commented, "they can't be that bad" after the contest with McGill.

Most observers of the 1948 Canadian Olympic hockey hope found it no comparison with previous Canadian Olympic Clubs. Canada's hold on Olympic hockey was undisputed until 1936 when a combined Port Arthur-Winnipeg rebuilt club lost 2-1 to an English team strengthened by Canadian players.

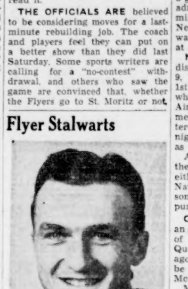
WINNIPEG Falcons, first team to represent Canada at the Olympics in 1920, defeated Swenden 12-1 and the United States 2-0. In 1924 the Granites swept all aside with ease, crushing Czechoslovakia 30-0, Sweden 22-0, Britain 19-2 and the United States 6-1.

Varsity Grads also swept all aside in 1928. A combined Winnipeg team in 1932 struggled through two extra games but won out.

Flyer Stalwarts



BILLY MAHER



ANDY CLOVECHOK

BILL PETTINGER

At Edmonton Dr. W. G. Hardy, vice-president of the International Ice Hockey Federation, said last night he viewed the 7-0 defeat inflicted upon the Flyers by McGill Redmen at Ottawa in an exhibition game Saturday as a result of the International Olympic Committee's insistence that the Canadian representatives be amateurs under its rules.

"Had the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association been permitted to enter a team according to our definition of an amateur, Canada would have a strong team," he said.

"AS IT IS, the CAHA has had to pick a team which would conform to the International Olympic Committee's oath. Either we don't send a team or we have to send a 'simon-pure' team."

"The International Olympic Committee is the villain of the piece. Either we stay out or enter a club whose players can swear that they are 'simon-pure' amateurs. The RCAF offered to pick such a club."

Dynamiters Swamp Smoke Eaters 15-2

KIMBERLEY, Dec. 16.—(CP)—Kimberley Dynamiters last night picked up where they left off last Saturday, snowing Trail Smoke Eaters under 15-2, in a Western International Hockey League game played on home ice. It was a during the week-end.

Turning in more polished hockey each time they take the ice, Kimberley made it a parade of rubber after the first tally was registered in the opening 51 seconds.

SCORING seven goals in the first without retaliation, Dynamiters added three in the second period to Trail's one, pounding five in the final to Trail's singleton

European Teams Show Class

Best Canadian Sextet Needed At Olympics

PARIS, Dec. 16. —(Reuters)— North Americans who scoff at European ice hockey players can pause now and ponder this opinion: If Canada or the United Stattes expect to shine in the 1948 Winter Olympics they should send the best amateur team they can find, to St. Moritz, Switzerland.

This, say continental observers, is because "ize-ockee," as the game is most popularly known in most European capitals, has come a long way since the early '30s when a few Canadians were "imported" to teach hockey fundamentals.

LAST WINTER, for instance, the United States sent a team from Boston to represent them in the so-called world's amateur championships in Prague.

With little more than bright uniforms and enough sticks to go round, Boston lost more games than it won and by the time it reached Prague, reinforcements had to be "air-mailed."

BUT EVEN the subsequent All-Star Americans were outclassed, particularly by the burly Lawn Tennis Club team of Prague, captained by the Davis Cup net star, Jaroslav Drobny.

Czech, Swiss, Italian, Hungarian and Swedish teams have performed here this winter against the Paris Racing Club team. The locals have beaten them all, but the racing club is an all-Canadian aggregation, except for two second-string French players.

WITH SUCH established performers as Ossie Carnegie of Toronto, Manny McIntyre and Mush Moorehouse of Fredericton, N.B., Paul Herbert and Roland Forget of Montreal, "le racing" has the nucleus of a good senior Canadian team.

Carnegie still packs most of the craft, speed and power which made him one of Canada's most soughtafter amateurs a few seasons ago, but even he and his experienced teammates have not been winning easily.

THE PICK of this year's continental visitors were those representing the Prague first Lawn Tennis Club. The Czechs were big, fast and hockey-wise.

The Prague team checked closely and lustily. When one of their defence men took an opposing forward into a corner, the thud against the boards was reminiscent of Maple Leaf Gardens in Toronto on any hockey night.

NEXT BEST was the Swedish "alk" team from Stockholm. Much smaller than the Czechs but even busier, with forwards backchecking as if it earned them points, the Swedes lacked finish around the enemy net but in other departments were as fleet and smart as a team of blond Doug Bentleys.

New York Grand Jury

Suggests Legalizing Off-Track-Betting

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—(AP)—A Kings County Grand Jury recommended Monday that the state legislature legalize off-the-track betting and the state "create a system of offices . . . where bets on horse races may be made and payment made to winners through the operation of the presently existing pari-mutuel system."

This would insure "proper accountability to the public, eradicate the function of bookmakers and enhance the system of control by the state," the Brooklyn body said in a presentment to county Judge Nathan Sobel.

"WE BELIEVE," the presentment added, "that it is not only the duty of the state to control betting everywhere, and not only at the track, but further that if such control existed, many of the evils now prevalent because of the bookmaker would disappear."

In favoring legalized off-the-track betting, the Grand Jury followed the example set Aug. 13 by a Queens County grand jury. The presentment grew out of an investigation of charges that illegal bookmaking flourished in Brooklyn under police protection. The Grand Jury said it could not substantiate the charges.

Hawaiians Barred From Pro Football

HONOLULU, Dec. 16.—(AP)—Four star players of the champion Hawaiian Warriors were barred from professional football for life and 10 others were indefinitely suspended Monday for betting on one of their own games.

Rufus Klawans of San Francisco, commissioner of the Pacific coast professional football league, announced his action after interviewing the men involved in a $6,700 betting pool on the game in which they won the league title from the Los Angeles Bulldogs, 7-6.

ALTHOUGH they won the game, the bettors had most of their money by giving up to 18 points.

The players were fined a total of $675 in court Saturday on charges of betting on an athletic contest.

Klawans said he had talked to all the players involved and "they have admitted their guilt."

Even though they bet only on themselves, Klawans said their conduct brought "disrepute upon the game of professional football."

SOLUNAR TABLES

The schedule of Solunar Periods as printed below, has been taken from John Alden Knight's SOLUNAR TABLES. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

The Major Periods are shown in boldface type. These begin at the times shown and last for one hour and a half or two hours thereafter. The Minor Periods, shown in regular type, are of somewhat shorter duration.

Fine Coach $100

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 16. —(AP)—President Al Leader of the Pacific Coast Hockey League Monday fined Coach Tony Hemmerling of the Oakland Oaks $100 for abusive language to referee Bill Knott in Sunday night's game with San Diego.

Mickey Owen May Play Independent

HUMBOLDT, Ia., Dec. 16.—(AP)—Mickey Owen, suspended major league catcher, is expected to play with Humboldt's independent semi-pro baseball team next year.

Officials said Owen plans to move here with his family next spring.

Owen, who now specializes in sales of pure-bred hogs, is under a five-year suspension from organized baseball for jumping to the Mexican League which he later quit.

The suspension was imposed in May, 1946.

Rimstad Tied for 2nd Spot

Flyer's "Punch Line" Overhauling Leaders

The Edmonton Flyer "punch line"—Morey Rimstad, Johnny Black and Billy Maher—currently the "hottest" trio in the Western Canada Senior Hockey circuit, has been on a point-sniping rampage lately and as a result now is crowding the leaders in the individual scoring race.

According to unofficial figures Calgary's Byron "Butch" McDonald continuing to set a blistering pace, is still perched solidly atop the sheet with 43 points, made up of 19 goals and 33 assists.

RIMSTAD'S total of 37 points consisting of 14 markers and 23 assists, gives him a tie with Al McDougall of Regina for second spot honors. McDougall has turned the light on 21 times and helped in 16 others.

Johnny Black and Maher, the other half of the punch line, are in the seventh and eighth positions respectively. Black has 30 points, made up of 14 goals and 16 assists, while Maher has 15 and 13 to his credit.

Andy Clovechok and Bing Mer luk also are coming fast now.

LONDON STOCKS

LONDON, (AP)—Trading on the stock exchange was quiet Tuesday following the break-up of the four power conference. Volume was small and in the absence of interest some marking down of prices took place in the industrial section. Gilt edged securities closed fractionally down.

Oat production of the world is placed at 3,805 million bushels, somewhat below the 1946 production of 3,965 million and the 1935-39 average of 4,365 million bushels.

Profit-Taking Pulls Oils Back

CALGARY.—Tuesday trading in oil stocks saw the higher prices that opened the week cut back by profit-taking sales. Losing one point apiece were A. P. Con, Calmont, Leduc West and Superior while East Leduc was a lone exception, to rise two and hold half of that at .25.

Sales and close: 3,000 Anaconda .07; 500 A.P. Con .14; 400 Calmont .44; 8,000 Central Leduc .16½; 4,500 East Leduc .25; 3,200 Globe .54; 10,000 Leduc West .59; 500 Okalta .25. Total sales: 97,696 shares.

TORONTO.—Lower bids called the turn Tuesday. Home and Roxana were off five cents each. Pacific Pete off three at .90, Globe down 1½ at .54. Anglo dropped seven to 1.50 and Leduc West sold off one at .56. Okalta unchanged at .74.

Close at Toronto: Anglo 1.50; Globe .53; Home 4.80; Leduc West .56; Okalta .73½.

Unchanged Within a Changing World

ONCE again it's Christmastide, the old familiar Season. All through the house on Christmas Eve the well-remembered chores are done anew;

Cheerfully bustling about, the family creates contented chaos, for Christmas Eve without confusion would lack in geniality and warmth. There's Mother struggling with the noble turkey; she vows that next time the roasting pan will be a bigger one ; ; : this bird will never fit. But Mother has been saying that for years.

Upon the beaming face of Dad there sits a look of comical perplexity; again he has forgotten—the lights go on before the ornaments;

Whirlwinds and hurricanes spin noisily from room to room ; ; ; the kids won't go to bed. Well, let them whoop it up a little longer. What's Christmas for if children can't enjoy it.

Out of it all ; ; ; the mistletoe and holly; the gaily coloured wrappings, the warmly beating hearts ; ; ; there comes again to reassure mankind a day of Faith, and Hope, and Charity—Christmas unchanged within a changing world.

Telephone 26121 EDMONTON, ALBERTA, TUESDAY, DECEMBER 16, 1947 Page Nine

Paul Gallico Says:

If you would not consider it too late for an ex-sports writer to chuck in his two cents worth, I would like to pass a few remarks about the recent Joe Louis-Joe Walcott heavyweight championship fight which had many of my friends sailing me up in great indignation to demand my reaction to the outrage of the decision. They couldn't have been angrier had it been Molotov and Marshall.

I must warn you that even after all these years, I look upon the Heavyweight Championship of the World with some romanticism. Viewing the altercation on the television screen at the home of my friend and stablemate, Mr. Leonard Lyons, I judged at its conclusion that a Mr. Walcott had won a sparring match from a Mr. Louis, but what he had not done was win the Heavyweight Championship of the World. And thus when the judges rendered their verdict, I was able to accept it with a calmness and sang-froid for which I am not usually noted and even to add the considered reflection that the arbiters had been Solon-like in their decision.

For my conception of a heavyweight champion is that he is the boss-man of the world when it comes to fist-fighting, a fellow who asserts his authority in no uncertain terms and who in the long run does not need a set of mathematicians to measure the effects of his prowess with a slide-rule.

Louis Had It

Such a champion, Joseph Louis Barrow has been in every respect. With few exceptions, his challengers have left the ring in a lamentable state of disrepair, usually feet first, and headed for the nearest clinic. The brawl would end with Joseph in full command of the situation by force of arms, and for this all of us have loved him and demand that his successor be a fellow of similar calibre who will foster and maintain this illusion.

Had this been an ordinary joust between two contending heavyweights, the top of a Friday night club card, I would be the first to insist that Walcott was the winner on guile and points, for this is yet another conception of the sour science that one fellow bash the other and avoid a bashing in return.

But this was no ordinary fight. This Heavyweight Championship of the World was at stake. At the finish of it, the challenger was comporting himself not like that champion, but like a smart-alec. He failed us in a conception. The judges were quite right to penalize him.

Artistic Failure

Everything in life has line and form, including a prizefight. There was nothing wrong with Walcott acting the smart ring alec except that he continued to play the part at the wrong place, namely, the finish. We are willing to accept guile and cleverness in our men of brawn, but only as a means to an end. We want our champions, if possible, to have the wit to discombobulate the enemy but only for the purpose of setting him up for the deep freeze.

Walcott's was an artistic failure like a story without a climax or a painting without composition. At the finish he neglected to dot his i's and cross his t's. He also neglected something far more important, which was to cross his right. "Twilight of the Gods" was being performed in the Garden Ring. Walcott chose to sing Pagliacci instead of Siegfried. The honored judges probably could not tell you who those parties were, but the fitness of their decision they felt in their bones. For the challenger did not leave the ring the better man in our concept of the championship.

To Brother Louis, who is suffering the humiliation of having been photographed reclining on the seat of his pants, I can only offer the sympathetic parallel of the royal personage, the Princess Juliana, who hit the deck while dancing at the wedding of Elizabeth and Philip. For, while Joseph was up at the count of seven, the Princess, apparently from accounts, took forty and required three men and a bulldozer to get back on her feet.

Suggests Resort Hotels Stay Open

If the big resort hotels in Alberta mountain parks would remain open all winter there would be no reason for any seasonal drop in tourist traffic, George Eisenschimi, who has made several short films on mountain skiing, told a small group of government officials in the provincial movie censor's viewing room Monday.

The officials met to see Mr. Eisenschimi's latest production "Rhythm on Snow" a 45-minute picture showing training an Olympic ski team at Banff.

The picture, in technicolor, will be distributed in the United States, Mr. Eisenschimi said. He was leaving Tuesday for Europe to arrange for exhibitions there.

A full-length feature with a background of skiing will be filmed in the mountains next spring, he announced.

Many to Spend Christmas at Sea

Edmonton and district citizens will be among those who will spend Christmas Day on the high seas enroute to the United Kingdom.

A special CPR car carrying vacationists destined for the United Kingdom left Edmonton at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday. The train will arrive in Montreal Friday morning, Dec. 19, and the passengers will be transferred, to a special train reserved for steamship passengers.

The members of the special train will sail from St. John on the morning of Dec. 20, aboard the Canadian Pacific Steamship "Empress of Canada." The ship will call at Halifax on Dec. 21, and is scheduled to dock at Liverpool, Dec. 28. At Liverpool a special train will be waiting alongside the dock for those passengers going to London.

FOR MOST OF the passengers it will be their first Christmas Day spent at sea. However, the staff of the Empress of Canada is prepared and the passengers will be treated. There will be little lacking, except the usual family members during the Christmas Day celebrations, on board. A huge Christmas Tree with gifts for all the children will be the centre of attraction. Turkey, cranberry sauce, plum pudding and all the trimmings will also be present during the day.

According to R. W. Greene, assistant general agent for Canadian Pacific Steamship Lines here, the majority of the persons who left Edmonton in the special car Tuesday will return by the end of next April.

FOLLOWING IS a list of the passengers who left Edmonton aboard the CPR train this afternoon:

Mrs. M. P. Leblanc, Mr. and Mrs. R. Newnes and son, Mr. and Mrs. J. Kelly, and Mrs. A. Kettle, all of Edmonton; Karl Allman, Millet; C. M. Dodds, John Davis, Jack Grimshaw; P. H. Kent, Fort Nelson, B.C.; William Temple, Killam; W. E. Banks, Dawson Creek, B.C.; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wright, Red Deer; Mr. and Mrs. R. Foster and two children, and Mrs. A. Middleton, of Lacombe; L. H. Rupert, Yellowknife, Y.T.; Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Mercer, Mannville; A. K. Kofman, Tofield; and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Chubb, Springdale.

Hon. A. J. Hooke, provincial secretary, and R. A. McMullen, provincial director of public relations, will also be aboard the "Empress of Canada" Christmas Day. The two governments are those who are going to London to establish an Agent General's office departed from Edmonton via CPR carlier this week.

Age for Enlistment In RCMP Is Lowered

The age for enlistment in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police has been lowered according to a directive issued by Commissioner S. T. Wood in Ottawa.

Applications will now be accepted from men between the ages of 18 to 30 years provided they can meet the other standards set out by the force. The former age was 21 to 30 years.

"Messiah" Music Heard at Rotary Carol Festival

Christmas is the season of the year, above all others, when people are banded together in song to tell of the glories of Christmas, and all that it stands for. The annual carol festival, sponsored by the Rotary Club opened at McDougall United Church on Monday night with seven city choral organizations taking part. Above are four members of Metropolitan United Church Choir which opened the festival. They are singing an extract from Handel's "Messiah," for several centuries one of the most appropriate Christmas numbers. From left to right they are Sherrill Lanyon, Margaret Dodds, Harriet Shaver and Viola Martins. —Photos by Bland.

Some critics claim that today's youth is interested in nothing but jive and boogie-woogie. The above picture is conclusive refutation of such allegations. The three girls, left to right Hime Phalenpin, Shirley Leitch and Eleanor Brooks are members of the Edmonton Teen Age Choral Society and they were among the many who sang at the opening of the Rotary Club carol festival at McDougall United Church on Monday night.

More Resignations From S.C. Paper

Resignations from the staff of the Canadian Social Crediter, which followed appointment of Gordon E. Taylor, M.L.A. as managing editor of the paper, continued to be turned in on Tuesday. Two more members of the organization announced they would sever connections with the paper.

They were Ken Burton, associate editor, and Miss Nanette Jaques, daughter of Norman Jaques, Social Credit MP for Wetaskiwin. Mr. Jaques' writings were among those mentioned by Mr. Taylor as coming under a newly-decreed ban.

Mr. Taylor was not perturbed by the situation. He said the paper would continue publishing. "I'm pretty sure we can get the staff and we'll get an even better paper," he stated.

Denial that appointment of Mr. Taylor as managing editor caused his resignation was issued Tuesday by Mr. Gillese. "Several personal factors", coupled with the feeling he had contributed all he could to the cause of "freedom-with-security" were the reasons given by Mr. Gillese for leaving the paper.

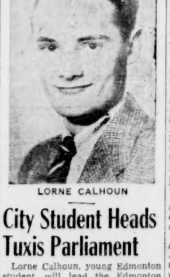
He also denied that changed policy of the paper induced his resignation.

League to Meet

Regular monthly business meeting of the McKernan Lake Community League will be held in the community hall, Tuesday Dec. 16, at 8:15 p.m. The hall is located at 114 street and 77 avenue.

Sanatorium treatment for the tuberculous began on this continent at Saranac Lake, N.Y., where, in 1885, Dr. Edward L. Trudeau built a little cottage for two patients.

Tuxis Premier



LORNE CALHOUN

City Student Heads Tuxis Parliament

Lorne Calhoun, young Edmonton student, will lead the Edmonton delegation at the Alberta Tuxis Boys' Parliament session to be held in Lethbridge Dec. 25 to Dec. 31. He will act as premier during sessions, which will be held in the Lethbridge Collegiate.

Chief purpose of the parliament will be an investigation into the Tuxis program and also into boys' camps in the province.

Senator W. A. Buchanan of Lethbridge will act as lieutenant-governor, and Jack Pritchard, Edmonton, as speaker of the house.

Successful Edmonton candidates in last week's election of representatives were Harold Ashley, John Williams, Bob Lister, Arthur Cunningham, Bob Ingram and Derek Barchelier. Accompanying the delegates will be Alberta cabinet ministers and representatives from the Mormon Church, youth groups, and the Boy Scouts.

Two-thirds of all the deaths from tuberculosis occur before the age of 50.

Plane Was Forced Down in North

A Peace River and Northern Airways plane forced Monday on a small lake near Fort Wrigley, after a forced landing, did not realize that the ice as was previously believed.

Bruce Reid, general manager of the company, received a message from President Jack Moar, at Yellowknife Tuesday morning, stating that the Anson broke through the ice half an hour after landing due to weather conditions. Moar, who piloted the plane and at least one unidentified passenger, were flown to Yellowknife Monday by Pilot Ernie Boffa of CP Air Lines, who located the downed plane after a search since last Thursday.

Moar's plane was the object of a joint CP Air Lines-RCAF rescue search, when it failed to arrive at Yellowknife Thursday night.

Moar had been travelling for another Peace River and Northern Airways plane that had been unreported in the north. The latter plane landed safely later at Wrigley.

Neither Moar, his passenger or passengers, was injured in the Mackenzie River landing and will be flown back to Edmonton Tuesday or Wednesday.

Boffa located Moar's plane on a small lake 60 to 75 miles southeast of Wrigley. The CP Air Lines pilot landed and took off with the grounded persons and brought them safely to Yellowknife.

Install Traffic Signals at Bridge

Traffic signal control has been installed at the low level bridge to regulate bus, truck and automobile traffic, it was announced Tuesday by Thomas Ferrier, superintendent of the Edmonton Transit System.

Two special policemen will regulate truck traffic over the bridge during the rush hours between 7:30 and 9 a.m. and in the afternoon from 2 to 6:30 p.m. Two employees of the transit system will operate hand signals to regulate the traffic on the bridge.

PRESENT RESOLUTIONS

Resolutions endorsed by the recent conference of the Canadian Congress of Labor unions in Edmonton will be presented to the provincial cabinet on Tuesday morning by a delegation from that body. Jan Lakeman, chairman of the CCL in Alberta, is spokesman for the delegation.

POLICE COURT

Gets Prison Term On Forgery Charge

Pleading guilty to a forgery charge, George W. Hanna, a district man, was given a six-month prison term when he appeared before Magistrate A. I. Millar in city police court Tuesday morning. He was also given three months for passing a worthless cheque.

Thomas Murray, Yellowknife, drew a $30 fine or six weeks in jail when he pleaded guilty to stealing a number of tools from a parked car. He told the magistrate he was drunk and did not remember committing the act. When police apprehended him they said he was intoxicated. He was also fined $20 and costs or 30 days on the charge of being intoxicated.

Plan Addition To City School

Four building permits totalling $161,300 were issued by the city architect's office Monday for the construction of commercial buildings, and an addition to a city school.

A permit for $45,800 was issued to the Edmonton Public School Board for the erection of an addition to the Spruce avenue school, 11410 102 street, and one for $15,000 to Gormans Ltd., for the construction of a two-storey office addition to its present building at 10238 104 street.

Healey Motors Ltd., took out a permit for $9,500 for the erection of an addition to its garage at 10463 Jasper avenue, and a permit for $91,000 was issued to the Consolidated Fruit Co. covering an adjustment of a permit previously issued. This will bring the permit value of the office structure erected by the company at 10434 105 avenue to $230,000.

The company also purchased property at 10331 105 street for $6,850 for future plant extension.

Boost Prize Money

Increases in the prize money offered to exhibitors is indicated in the prize list for the spring livestock show sponsored by the Edmonton Exhibition Association. The show will be held starting Tuesday, April 6, and continuing through April 8.

Tourist Attractions Displayed in Booklet

Alberta's tourist attractions are colorfully displayed in a new four tut booklet being sent out this week by the Alberta government tourist publicity branch. The booklet simply titled "Alberta, Canada" was prepared under the direction of Don Sandilands, Edmonton artist and was printed by the King's Printer here.

The cover is color-printed to depict in photo and symbolic drawings the attractions available. The reading matter, of which there is little, is attractively spaced with brilliant photographs of mountain scenery.

Heads Group

R. W. Pearson was elected chairman of the Christian Businessmen's Association at the annual meeting in the Macdonald hotel Monday night.

Vice-chairman is J. E. Glenn with T. J. Van Dyke, secretary and F. E. Larson treasurer.

Premier Ernest Manning is honorary president.

The group decided to concentrate on a program distributing religious moving pictures during 1948.

Tram Fatality Inquest

Jury Suggests More Care at Rail Crossings

More care should be exercised by street car operators when crossing intersections for the safety of pedestrians was the rider attached to a verdict brought in by a six man coroner's jury attending an inquest Monday afternoon into the death of 77-year-old James Shaw, Alexandra block, killed Dec. 7 at 100A street and Jasper.

THE OTHER PART of the verdict read that the man died in hospital as a result of a fractured skull and lacerations received when struck by street car 52 or 54.

Testimony showed that the deceased and his wife were caught between the two cars while attempting to cross the street. The jury did not establish whether it was the east or west bound car which struck Shaw.

Mrs. Shaw, the widow, stated that her husband put his arm up as though to stop the east bound car so that they could proceed on their way south across the street. She said her husband was a little in front of her and she felt the west bound car brush the back of her coat.

Driver of the east bound car, Hector MacDonald, 12222 64 street, said he saw the elderly man raise his hand but thought it was a sign of clearance. He said he saw the couple clear his car, looked up and saw that the west bound car was just passing too.

DUNCAN BARNETT, 7855 111 avenue, a street car operator who was in the cab of the east bound car following MacDonald, said he definitely saw the west bound car strike Shaw. MacDonald was just on the last day of his 15-day training course as a motorman.

George Nevalin, 11394 92 street, motorman on the west-bound car said he saw the couple when about fifty feet from them then saw the other car approaching when about 20 feet from them. He applied his brakes immediately and stopped with the front of the tram in the west crosswalk. The Shaws were crossing in the east crosswalk.

Chief coroner Dr. E. A. Braithwaite was in charge of the inquest.

Miner Shortage Reason for Drop

Drop in the production of domestic coal in Alberta during 1948 is due to the "impact of the 40-hour week and the shortage of experienced miners" in the view of V. A. Cooney, Drumheller, secretary of the Dominion Coal Operators' Association of Western Canada.

Mr. Cooney, accompanied by W. C. Whittaker, Calgary, secretary and commissioner of the Western Canada Bituminous Coal Operators' Association, is in Edmonton on coal association business. The two planned to discuss coal production and other matters with Hon. N. E. Tanner, provincial minister of lands and mines.

Domestic coal production is lagging below last year's output by about 10 per cent. Total production in the province last year was 3,800,000 tons.

The box car shortage is not a factor in the drop of production in the opinion of Mr. Cooney.

The two coal officials are guests at the Macdonald hotel.

John Skokaluk, Calgary, vice-president of the United Mine Workers of America, Alberta district 18, is a guest visitor in Edmonton Tuesday, staying at the Macdonald hotel.

DOROTHY DIX says:

Couples Could Live Life of Happiness

Everybody is doing it. Taking a refresher course. The preachers are brushing up on how to put more pep into their sermons. Your pet doctor is off attending lectures on his specialty. Businessmen are acquiring a new line of sales talk. Every woman you know is trying to change her figure. Babies are being used as guinea pigs on whom their mothers experiment with new theories on nutrition. And even Grandma is taking cooking lessons.

For all of which Heaven be praised, for certainly all of us need to be yanked out of the ruts into which we have fallen, instead of sinking deeper in them. We need to find out, as Brother Jasper says, that "the world do move" and that we have to hustle to catch up with it if we don't want to be left hopelessly behind. It is going to be a hard struggle to give up our old ways, our old opinions, our old points of view to which we are so closely attached as we are to the skins on our backs, but it is going to work a great reformation.

And its forerunner is this refresher course that is sweeping over the country just now and making people realize how much they are missing in life just because they haven't kept up with the procession. For instance there is old age. We think of it as a bleak time of boredom and frustration in which all we can do is to grouch and complain and make ourselves and everyone about us miserable. And we justify this by saying it can't be helped.

But it can. There is a remedy for it. What elderly people need is a refresher course in youth. Let them go back in spirit to the time when they were gay boys and girls, when there was excitement in just living; when they danced to a band organ, when a sandwich was a feast and they drank pop instead of champagne. No nostrum will turn 70 into 17, but old people can keep a perpetual youth if they will live in their memories.

And there is happiness. How many bitter, disgruntled men and women we know who spend their lives railing at fate. Their bread is sorrow and their drink is tears, and they refuse the angel food that is offered them. Yet even the most elementary refresher course in living would teach these melancholy ones that we make our own happiness and that it takes strength and courage to do it, but that there is no place in the world for cry babies.

And, suppose—just suppose—that all married couples took a refresher course in love-making. The average husband and wife are all too prone to romance at the altar and thereafter take each other for granted. They settle down to the daily grind of building a home, making a living and raising a family, and they forget that they were ever lovers. They even get to calling each other Mama and Papa.

It is not that they have lost their affection for each other. Often it is deeper than it was when they were married, because each has found out the sterling worth of the other and they are bound together by a thousand ties of loyalty, but they have just gotten out of the habits of courtship. Yet they both long to be petted and flattered and told how wonderful and beautiful they are.

Certainly there is nothing more needed than a refresher course in courtship for both husbands and wives.

Why Grow Old?

For a perfect effect, you must choose your cosmetics carefully, just as Actress Gloria Henry, above, does.

By Josephine Lowman

Many women who show skill in the color schemes they incorporate into their homes, and who match accessories carefully to the costume they are wearing, fall in the matter of makeup.

We would not dream of wearing a scarlet hat with a wine colored dress, and yet we often see such a violation of color harmony in the choice of rouge and lipstick. Even if we do not go so far astray as that, we sometimes try to stretch the use of one lipstick with too many different shades in dress.

The problem in choosing the right makeup for individual coloring and matching it to the costume she is wearing is indeed complicated and is puzzling the average woman. Today, however, you can obtain trained direction from beauty experts throughout the country.

For a few days now I am going to try to help you classify yourselves and give you suggestions as to how to match your cosmetics to your own coloring and to the color of the dress you are wearing. In the first place, we will classify colors in two large groups: first, the cool colors or those which have blue undertones such as plum, wine, blue-greens; and second, the warm colors or those with red or yellow as their base, such as browns, greens, yellows, tangerine and scarlet. For black you must consider your own individual coloring as the important ingredient in choice. However, generally blue toned makeup which is deeper and more striking is best.

Now that we have classified color into these general groups, let us consider individual types. One widely known cosmetic house divides them into six types: the tropical type, the Irish brunet, the true blond or Dresden type, the true American type, the red head, and the silver type.

In the following columns this week I will pass on suggestions for makeup for these types. I am sure that practically every woman will fit into one classification.

If you wish to have my leaflet which gives you tricks in makeup, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 30, "What's Going On?" to Josephine Lowman in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

The Book of Knowledge

(Department: The World)

This and the following articles are taken from the Book of Knowledge and can be clipped for saving in a reference book.

STYLES IN MEDIEVAL TIMES

The elaborate clothes worn by the Romans, particularly the women, in the time of Julius Caesar, were described in an earlier article. After the fall of the Roman Empire, European costume suffered a decline during the centuries known as the Dark Ages.

However, the later Middle Ages saw increasing luxury in dress. In the Bayeux Tapestry, an account of William the Conqueror, was crowned King of England. This is what Henry were ordinarily.

Over a white linen shirt he drew on a loose wool tunic that reached to the ground. It had long tight sleeves and broad edgings of gay material hand-worked by needle, or woven in patterns. A second tunic, reaching to the knees, and with wide elbow-sleeves, came next. This was also trimmed with embroidered edging and a precious gold brooch was clasped at the open neck.

Henry wore tight, fitted trousers, boots of soft leather, and short socks. Garters crossed around the calf of his legs to keep the trousers neat and to serve as ornament. A cape cut like a half-circle, lined with fur and caught with a golden clasp, was warm and elegant.

The ladies of the court felt themselves quite daring. For more than 50 years, ladies had modestly concealed their hair with scarves called wimples. A wimple came up under the chin in front, and served as a frame to the face. Some orders of nuns nowadays wear a sort of a wimple, having retained the costume from the Middle Ages. In fact, most religious dress comes down to us from Medieval times. But about 1100, the women began to show the beauty of their hair by letting it hang in two long braids over the shoulders. If a lady's hair happened to be sparse, she bought extra hair to add to her plaits.

The court lady wore a linen or wool chemise with long, tight sleeves, and a gown open at the neck so that the white edge of the chemise showed above it. The gown trailed upon the ground. Sleeves were tight to the elbow, then very wide, and were so long that sometimes knots were tied in them to keep them from dragging on the floor.

The bodice of the gown was laced to give a neat outline. A jewelled belt of woven gold or of other rich fabric was also passed twice around the waist, and the ends hung almost to the hem. The lady's cape, cut in a half-circle, was fastened at the neck with a cord and jewelled clasp.

Elegance, dignity and modesty were found in the lady's appearance. It is one of the most charming periods of costume.

As the Middle Ages passed, and the Renaissance years brought to Europe gold and silver and gems from Asia and America, heavy brocades from China, silk interwoven with gold, and even cloth of gold, the tendency was towards greater splendor. In Germany in the 15th century, the desire for decoration went so far that rumblers of little bells were sown on gowns as trimming.

Barking Dogs Guide Fishermen Ashore

SOUTH CONNEMARA, Ire., Dec. 16.—(CP)—Dogs which were teased to make them bark were the means of guiding to shore a number of fishermen in a dense fog.

When the fog suddenly descended on the sea, villagers gathered on the shore and shouted over the water to guide the fishermen home.

After night fell, dogs were brought and their barking enabled the fishermen to find their way to safety.

Bridge

By William E. McKenney

One of these days I would like to put on a bridge contest between my friends in the Army and Navy. Of course Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther is the top bridge name in Army circles, although I understand that General Eisenhower claims to be a better player, and that Gen. Mark Clark questions that statement.

If these three and Gen. Robert J. Gill of Baltimore, Md., would team up against a picked Navy team (whose name I will not mention now lest I tip off my hand) it could become another great annual Army-Navy game.

I learned recently while playing in a game with a naval officer that the Navy is not afraid to bid. Sitting South, I opened the bidding on today's hand with one spade, although some experts would prefer to open it with a club.

I thought that the opponents might make four hearts, and that was the reason I went to five diamonds. When West bid five hearts, the Navy took command and went to six diamonds. There was no question from the look in his face that he intended to make it.

He won the opening lead in dummy with the ace of spades, led a small club to the king, cashed the ace of diamonds and led a small club which he ruffed in my hand. On the ace and queen of clubs he discarded his two losing spades, then led the jack of hearts. West quickly took his ace, and the captain spread his hand, claiming the balance.

Slim Down and Pep Up With Daily Exercise

Exercise is like swimming in ice cold water; once used to it, you feel wonderfully effervescent and buoyant. Once the muscles stop being parasites and begin to work for their keep, your body will perk up with renewed energy.

From a practical point of view, exercise is a small daily investment of time with dividends paying off in a healthier you. Take stock of yourself in a full-length mirror and decide which part of you needs toning or building up, then choose a suitable exercise.

For instance, say your shoulders and upper back have been bucking under the strain of marketing and lugging the baby around. The muscles need strengthening and here's one exercise that will do it.

Get on your hands and knees.

Your Baby and Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

It is an enigma to parents why some children cry so easily. Even after the child has passed the 18 to 36 months period of easy tears; he, or she, may burst into tears at the slightest provocation. Usually it is anger and frustration which brings out this response and of course girls are both more sensitive and more emotional than boys.

Mrs. N. B. has a nervous 6-year-old who bites his nails. He likes school but if he has to wait for the bus he cries, or if the teacher scolds him or corrects him.

It would seem that he was too young to have developed a sense of security in school. He is reprimanded or he becomes fearful that the bus will not come along and take him home, he is sufficiently disturbed to resort to tears. Time alone should end this conduct, though it would be well to talk it over with the teacher and enlist her co-operation. She can make him feel more at home.

A 6-year-old measuring 42 inches and weighing 37 pounds has had all of her teeth filled and two of them extracted. Mrs. J. C. wonders if a predisposition to the tonsils, now removed, could be responsible for this condition.

Sound teeth are the result of a good health heredity, of the mother's diet before the baby's birth and of the child's diet since birth. This girl belongs to the light-weights for her age, and the probability is that her diet is open to criticism. She should have, in addition to the B and D vitamins she now gets, plenty of eggs, milk, meat, fresh and cooked vegetables, and fruits and whole grain cereals which contain essential minerals and vitamins.

Here is a 7-year-old who has slept with either a brother or a sister since an infant. The child is now compelled to sleep alone on a second floor, the brother and sister having been married, and she is afraid. The father argues that she shouldn't be indulged, the mother thinks it will do her harm to feel fear.

Be reasonable. You can't make over life-long habits in a matter of weeks. If you can't sleep up stairs, too, prepare some bed for her on the first floor until she gets used to being in a bed alone first, then in a room alone.

Mrs. E. R. I shall be glad to send you the leaflet, No. 64, "Curing Bad Habits," which discusses rocking. Also ask for leaflet No. 26, "Diet from One to Two Years," as poor bedtime habits are often allied to diet. You told me nothing about the baby to make it possible to venture an opinion as to the cause of her poor sleeping.

Ace Disc Jockey, Age Five; Miss Gets $125 Weekly

By JEAN MEEGAN

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—(AP)—Every Saturday morning a five-year-old girl, topped by a big satin hair bow, emerges from the hurly-burly of Manhattan's traffic and [illegible] through a brass door on Broadway to go to work.

Robin is a hard-working, well-paid disc jockey. She is a colleague of such record spinners as Paul Whiteman, Ted Husing and Martin Block. The difference is she is a 40-pound package of light brown curls, hair still one front tooth missing. She can match wits, stories, mild jokes and trick music cues with the best of them.

"It's that missing baby tooth," a studio bystander said, "that reassures me she's just a kid five years old."

Robin gained her own disc jockey show on the strength of her glib performance on the Mutual network's Sunday afternoon "Juvenile Jury," of which she is the youngest member.

New radio programs generally are nurtured by advance publicity, but Robin's has proceeded for six months in virtual secrecy. New York's WOR officials now admit they've been chary of stories about their prodigy for fear of possible criticism.

Her mail and telephone calls are about average for a program of that type and time. She is tickled when someone calls to ask if she is a boy or a girl, or if she is related to comedian Henry Morgan. There have been inquiries asking if she is a midget.

She runs a conversational gamut in five minutes from the theatre to food, celebrities, disabled veterans, street-cars, jewelry and animals.

Nerve-wracked broadcasters who have had their moments with tempestuous stars and unpredictable amateurs say she is by far the calmest person in the studio.

Robin can't read but an elaborate system of signals has been worked out so that she knows when to hold back or speed up her patter. She never has been to school and her family mentions with evident relief that she can't do anything exceptionally well except talk.

When one of her anecdotes depends on a time element she confides: "Don't take my word whether that was six months or two years ago— I have no conception of time." That sounds like a financial wizard admitting he's never learned to count except on his fingers.

The child is not a smart alec. Precociousness in her case has taken the form of poise.

Her father, Maj. Matthew Morgan, is a doctor with the army of occupation in Germany. Her mother is a corset designer in New York.

Robin greets everyone enthusiastically by name, inquires after other members of the family, says something about the weather or mentions an adventure she has just had. On departing she kisses everybody.

"Robin [illegible]" she says. "I want to be a little Ingrid Bergman when I grow up I want to be a big Ingrid Bergman."

Other children understandably are shy of such a conversational champion.

Of her playmates she says: "They don't think of me as a star—which I really am not. I am just grateful to have my own show and be on 'Juvenile Jury.'"

Her weekly take is $125 quite a handful for a little lady born in Lake Worth, Fla., Jan. 29, 1942.

DUBLIN.—(CP)—Not even the nursery rhymes in republican Eire can mention a king—even an imaginary one.

Woodcock-Webster Wedding Held in United Church

JASPER, Dec. 16.—Giant bronze chrysanthemums decorated the United Church in Jasper for the wedding Monday at 11 a.m. of Miss Alberta Mae Webster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel A. Webster of Jasper, formerly of New York, and Laurence Vincent Woodcock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent H. Woodcock of Jasper. The Rev. A. Carr performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a powder blue two-piece dress styled with a peplum and a sweetheart neckline, and brown sequin cap with shoulder-length veil and she carried a white prayer book with pink rosebuds.

Miss Vera Routledge was bridesmaid and wore a beige frock with brown accessories and a corsage of [illegible].

[illegible] Edwin Watson, and ushers were D. A. Routledge and Bruce Webster.

Mrs. Webster chose for her daughter's wedding a red dress having a black sequin yoke, a black sequin cap and a corsage of [illegible]. Mrs. Woodcock, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gray suit with fuchsia accessories and a corsage of mixed baby chrysanthemums.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Orren Olson where large bronze chrysanthemums decorated the rooms and the bride's table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake. Mr. Carr proposed the toast to the bride. Mrs. Phillip Routledge poured coffee. Mrs. John Everett and Mrs. H. Cleveland assisted.

Before taking up residence in Edmonton the couple left for a honeymoon in Jasper Park, the bride travelling in a purple gabardine suit with brown accessories.

Woman to Play Double Bass

TORONTO, Dec. 16.—(CP)—Ruth Ross, 24-year-old brown-haired girl from Vancouver, recently abandoned her usual seat in the top balcony to take her place as the first woman to play the double bass with the Toronto Symphony Orchestra.

Up to a couple of years ago in Vancouver she used to hurry in her overalls from her work, as an electrician's helper in the shipyard to take her place at rehearsals at the Vancouver Symphony. She was offered a trial with the Toronto orchestra and accepted. Now she's a full member.

After studying in Toronto for the past year on a scholarship she is still living in cramped quarters with friends and going early to practice at Massey Hall.

. . . fine gloves are required. So when you are thinking of GIFTS, think of Perrin gloves, world famous for Parisian smartness and enduring wear. Fine gloves are one of the most important of costume accessories. A correct and beautiful glove, in just the right color, is required for every costume — and for different occasions. So many are needed that no gift receives a warmer welcome than fine gloves — romantic yet essential. Especially when they bear the Perrin name, and the Perrin clover trade mark . . . Perrin Gloves, for men and women, are featured at most good stores the world over.

RECIPE
● For a tempting, tangy, rich brown crust, dip fish before frying in milk or beaten egg highly seasoned with Heinz Yellow Mustard. Dust with flour. Cover with fine bread crumbs or cornmeal . . . Used in cooking or at the table— there's nothing like Heinz genuine stone-ground mustard to add rich zest to plain foods.

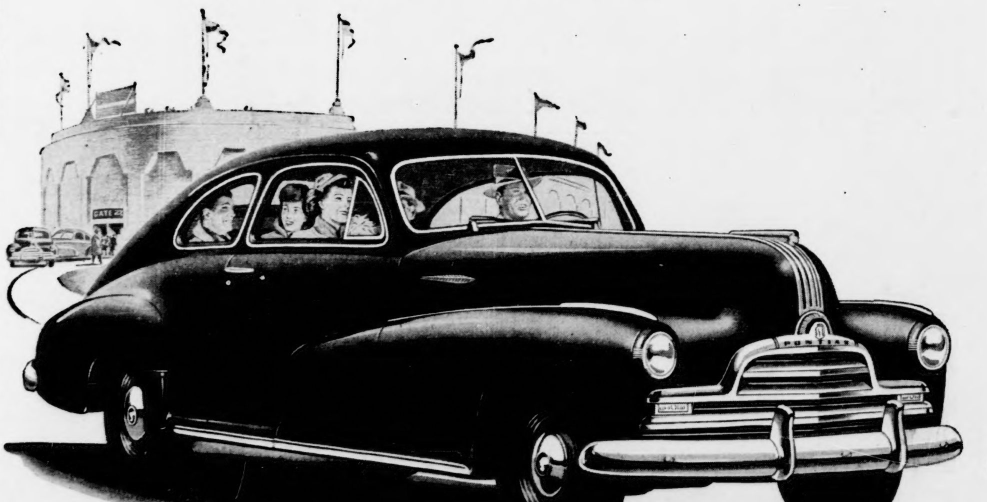
PONTIAC

A fine car made finer



A Product of General Motors

Here's every man's automobile!

It is difficult to think of a person who wouldn't be extremely happy to own and drive a Pontiac.

It is one of the nicest-handling, nicest-riding cars available anywhere. It is faithful, dependable, tough and rugged. It is smart and beautiful—and also very distinctive in its appearance. From every standpoint, it is a standout—fine enough for anybody's taste.

Yet—it is just as economical as any car you could buy. All things considered, no car costs less to own over the long period of its usefulness.

So whether you are seeking quality—or economy—or whether you are seeking both—you can find what you want in Pontiac. Truly, it comes very close to being every man's automobile.

Remember—it will pay you to keep your present car in good running condition by bringing it to us for skilled service, now and at regular intervals, until you secure delivery of your new Pontiac.

See How Pontiac Meets Every Driving Need!

DISTINCTIVE APPEARANCE—Exclusive Silver Streak Styling enhanced by new front end design and graceful new ornamentation.

GREATER COMFORT—Big, roomy Body by Fisher • Triple-Cushioned Ride • Modern, luxury interiors • Shock-Proof Knee-Action • Fisher No-Draft Ventilation • Effortless handling.

UNMATCHED DEPENDABILITY—Smooth, powerful L-Head six or eight cylinder Engines • Full-Pressure Metered Flow Lubrication • Permanent, Highly Efficient Oil Cleaner.

TRADITIONAL ECONOMY—All-Weather Engine Temperature Control • Gaselector • Vacuumatic Spark Control • Scotch-Mist Quick Warm-Up Manifold.

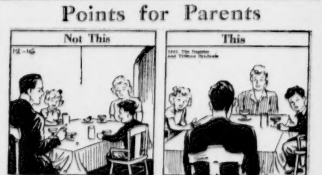
Points for Parents



Father: "This speaker said inflation was caused — don't interrupt me, Son, and quit eating with your fingers."
Mother: "We never can talk at the table!"

Father: "Hundreds of bats flew out of the cave."
Son: "Did they hit you, Dad?"
Daughter: "Do bats eat meat and potatoes like we do?"
Father: "They eat bugs."

Better table behavior and a pleasanter dinner time are encouraged by conversation which children can enjoy.

GALS AGLEE -:- by E. Simms Campbell

"I wouldn't give it too much publicity, gentlemen, but this lady won our $3,000 art competition!"

Rotary Carol Festival Scores Great Success

In the presence of a large audience "Christmas Carols of 1947" was unfolded at McDougall United Church on Monday night. This, the annual Rotary Club carol festival, will be continued tonight, Wednesday and Thursday nights. One and all voted the evening a great success.

THE ROTARY CLUB was among the first in Rotary International to establish this type of community entertainment, with two objects in view, first to foster a community spirit of fellowship at Christmas with the public generally invited to join in the singing of traditional carols and hymns and to help provide funds for community service work.

And this is just what happened on Monday night. A large congregation and seven choirs joined in the singing of carols that have come down the years as popular songs of the people.

Choirs with leaders taking part on Monday were Eastwood United church girls conducted by Kathleen Clarke; Erskine United Church choir, J. A. White; St. Joseph's Cathedral and Sacred Heart Choirs, the Rev. G. Leo Green; First Presbyterian, Arthur P. Newcombe; Cromdale school, A Simpson and the Edmonton Teen Age Choral Society, Mrs. D. S. McEachern.

Harold Fazackerley was master of ceremonies, keeping the choirs coming on and leaving the platform with a minimum delay. Also he led the audience in community singing, giving one and all an opportunity of singing favorite carols. Vernon Barford was at the organ.

An appropriate back-drop provided an atmosphere reminiscent of an old English village. It was painted by Jim Jordan, well-known city artist.

Members of the Rotary Club acted as ushers under the chairmanship of George Manning. F. A. Robbins is chairman of the committee in charge. Eight choirs are scheduled to sing tonight.

Wedding Gown Canadian Tour Is Suggested

VICTORIA, Dec. 16. — (CP) — A suggestion by Mayor Percy George that the wedding gown of Princess Elizabeth be put on public display throughout Canada to raise funds for food for Britain is being given serious consideration in London.

Mayor George was advised by W. A. McAdam, British Columbia's agent-general in London, yesterday that he had turned the suggestion over to Norman A. Robertson, high commissioner for Canada, who was taking it up with higher authorities.

The mayor said he had in mind that some national organization could sponsor the exhibition and by means of a small fee raise considerable funds to send food parcels to Britain.

Make Adjustment Egg Prices Feb. 1

OTTAWA, Dec. 16. — (CP) — While export contract negotiations have not been completed, the federal department of agriculture has given assurance that the egg prices will be brought "more in line with increased feed costs," an agriculture department official said yesterday.

This adjustment, he added, will apply after next Feb. 1. The special products board now is buying in line with a winter price schedule which runs to Jan. 31, he explained.

Under the spring schedule which opens Feb. 1, prices normally would drop by 8½ cents a dozen, but with the adjustment for increased feed costs, this drop is expected to be offset. Amount of the change in prices after Feb. 1 has not been determined.

Canadians in U.S. Returning Home

OTTAWA, Dec. 16.—(CP)— A "marked upswing" in the number of Canadians returning to the Dominion after residing in the United States was reported by the resources department yesterday in immigration figures for October.

During the 10 months ended last Oct. 31, a total of 7,771 Canadians returned under these circumstances, an increase of 3,858 over the similar period of 1946.

October immigration from all countries was 87 per cent higher than in the same month last year, amounting to 8,941 compared with 4,700 in October, 1946. This included 5,231 immigrants from the British Isles and 2,696 Europeans.

Mercury Drops To One Below Here

Northern Alberta temperatures again dropped below the zero mark Monday night with Edmonton experiencing an overnight low of one below. In southern Alberta the mercury remained a few degrees above zero at most points while at Grande Prairie it dropped to 13 below, coldest reported point in the province. Overnight low temperatures at Vermilion and Whitecourt were nine and six below respectively.

Temperatures ranging from 30 to 33 below, were reported in a zone stretching from Prince Albert, Sask., to Yellowknife, NWT. Fort McMurray temperature was 30 below.

Lowest temperature recorded in Manitoba was at Winnipeg, where 5 below was recorded.

In southern Alberta temperatures ranged from 10 above at Calgary to two above at Medicine Hat.

No marked change is expected in the general weather picture today but higher temperatures are expected Wednesday.

Had Narrow Escape From Death

CALGARY, Dec. 16. — (CP) — Fred Kautzer, 24, of Ogden, escaped death last night when an old model coupe he had been driving was almost demolished when struck by a Calgary-bound freight train on a level crossing near the C.P.R. Ogden shops.

He suffered a fractured leg, concussion and lacerations to the back of his head, a deep gash to his right hand and severe shock.
